SUPPLEMENTAL MATERIALS C—SCRIPT

ACT I
SCENE 1

Best friends, Baan and Regina, are at school practicing a dance routine to Ariana Grande's Side to Side. Scott and Steven walk by the girls. Scott and Steven are good friends and have a close relationship. Baan has a crush on Scott's best friend, Steven, who is a bit of an asshole. Baan and Regina are year 11s and are preparing for their exams. Steven and Scott are year 12s.

Regina and Baan are laughing and having fun when they spot the boys.

SCOTT:
Hey Sarah! How's it going?

BAAN:
Hi Abdi! Good how about you?

SCOTT and BAAN hug.

SCOTT:
while hugging It's going well. We have to go study for the VCE exams. They're so hard.

BAAN:
Ughh, good luck. I'm not looking forward to next year.

SCOTT:
Thanks! Well, I'll see ya later Baan, we have to go catch the bus.

BAAN:
Alright, see ya!

The boys begin to walk away and the girls start dancing and laughing again. As they are walking away, Steven gives the girls a judgemental look as they are dancing. Regina notices Steven looking at Baan.

Steven and Scott walk to the other side of the stage where Steven bumps Scott and whispers something to him.

Once the boys are gone, Regina turns to Baan and begins talking.

REGINA:
Hey, did you see Steven? He was totally checking you out!

BAAN:

insecurely No, there's no way he likes me. He's expecting Ariana Grande, I don't have a body like hers.

REGINA:

Are you kidding? You look amazing!

BAAN:

Yea sure, come on we should probably go study.

The girls walk off stage

SCENE 2

Steven and Scott are at Steven's house playing a violent video game. Baan is at her house in her bedroom thinking about the look Steven gave her and what it could mean. She decides to text Scott to ask his opinion.

The following "dialog" is through text. We will have either a screen or cue cards over the texter's head that show what is being sent. Or they will be speaking what they are typing.

BAAN:

Hey can I ask you something?

SCOTT:

Sure, go ahead.

BAAN:

Steven gave me a look before. What was that about?

SCOTT:

I don't know. It probably had something to do with your dancing.

BAAN:

You think he didn't like it?

SCOTT:

How should I know? Maybe you should ask him.

BAAN:

Ok, can I have his number?

SCOTT:
Sure, here you go.

Baan decides to take Scott's advice and text Steven.

BAAN:
Hey, it's Baan.

Steven looks at the text from Baan and turns to Scott to ask who she is.

STEVEN:
Dude, who's Baan?

SCOTT:
The girl I was talking to today.

STEVEN:
Oh right, the dancing chick.

Steven texts Baan again.

STEVEN:
Yo dancing chick, what's up?

BAAN:
I saw you whisper to Scott. What was up with that?

STEVEN:
I was just impressed. I didn't know you could dance like that.

BAAN:
You reckon I have the body for it?

STEVEN:
I couldn't tell, you were wearing a jumper. Why don't you send me a picture of you with less clothes on.

Baan reads the message and instantly begins to take her jumper off. She then hesitates for a second. She looks at herself in the mirror.

She decides to send the picture, grabbing her phone. She is about to take her shirt off as she walks off stage. The audience can assume that she's going to take the picture.

The boys are still playing video games. Steven's phone is sitting on the table next to them when it goes off. He glances at it and does a double take when he realizes what it is.

He drops his controller and grabs his phone, smacking Scott to get his attention.

STEVEN:
No way...

SCOTT:
What?

STEVEN:
I said less clothes, not no clothes

SCOTT:
What?

STEVEN:
Dude, the dancing chick sent me something! Look at this!

SCOTT:
Dancing chick? What, you mean Baan?

Scott looks at Steven's phone.

SCOTT:
Bro, you can't have that!

STEVEN:
Why? She sent it to me.

Scott hesitates to answer. Steven stands up from the couch, with his phone.

SCOTT:
But... Steven cuts him off.

STEVEN:
Chris would love this!

Steven sends the picture to Chris but soon everyone has it. Other students (GPAN members) are in the audience with their phones on high volume. Their ringers start going off as they get Steven's message. They start to show people in the audience and make their way toward the stage, into the classroom for their exam to begin.

SCENE 3

The students walk into the classroom where they are about to take their year 11 exams. They are all talking and showing each other their phones with the picture on it. Baan walks into the classroom and the rest of the students fall silent. She takes her seat. Teacher enters stage right, Baan exits stage left.

TEACHER:

Alright everyone, the exam is about to start. Put your books and phones away.

The teacher walks around the room to make sure all the students have put their phones away. He sees that the student sitting next to Baan still has his phone out. The picture is on his phone.

TEACHER:

Regina, I said phones away. You can have it back after the exam.

The teacher takes the phone from the student. As he takes the phone, it's slanted in a way that Baan can see what's on the phone. She sees the picture of herself and her eyes go wide.

The teacher walks away from the students and looks down at the phone. He stops for a second, turns to look at Baan, looks back at the phone, and then back to Baan.

TEACHER:

Baan, we'll need to talk after the exam.

Baan looks at the row of people behind her for support. No one makes eye contact with her. She looks over at Regina and says her name. Regina doesn't respond.

Baan runs out of the room, crying and embarrassed.

Scene 4

Two weeks later.

Two groups of students are standing on either side of the hallway at school, talking about Baan and the picture. Regina and Belal are on one side of the hallway and Alyssa and Channa are on the other side. Scott starts walking down the hallway.

SCOTT:

It's been 2 weeks since we last saw Baan. I'm worried about her, I know she's depressed and has been seeing the school counselor but, she won't answer any of my calls.

REGINA (TO BELAL):

I heard her parents pulled her out of school since she was trying to hurt herself. She left without saying goodbye.

SCOTT:

I heard she had to change schools. I hope this doesn't follow her there.

ALYSSA (TO CHANNA):

My cousin from Cragieburn just sent me a text asking about the girl in this picture!

SCOTT:

There are rumors that Baan's parents are pressing charges, not just against Steven, but against anyone who has the picture on their phone!

BELAL (TO REGINA):

Steven should have deleted the message as soon as he got it.

SCOTT:

Steven probably thought he was being funny but now he's going to be put on the sex offender registry. Who would have thought, Steven a sex offender.

CHANNA (TO ALYSSA):

If Baan didn't want people to see the picture, she shouldn't have sent it. She's a slut!

Throughout this, Scott, having started at the back of the stage, walks forward (down the hallway). He is now at the front of the stage and he stops to look at the audience.

SCOTT:

I could have stopped this before it happened. I've been in the middle of this the entire time. I was there when the picture was sent. I could have spoken up. This is mental.

SCENE 5

Rewind 1: Regina shows Baan support in class

TEACHER:

Alright everyone, the exam is about to start. Put your books and phones away.

ALYSSA AS MC:

Does this look familiar that's because it is. Now we are going to rewind and show you some scenes where if bystanders had intervened, the situation could have turned out differently. First, we are going to take a look at the scene where Regina gets the picture of Baan. How could Regina have responded differently? wait for people to answer Alright, let's take a look.

Teacher walks around just like previously. During this time, Regina's phone rings and she gets the text of the picture. She looks at the picture and then looks at Baan.

REGINA: (TO BAAN)

We have to go - she grabs Baan and they walk out of the room together before the teacher sees that Regina had her phone out.

Baan resists a little since Regina is asking her to leave their exam, but she finally leaves with Regina. As they are walking out the door, Regina looks back at the teacher and says:

REGINA:

Sorry, we have to use the bathroom.

ALYSSA AS MC:

In this situation, we see Regina take Baan and remove her from a difficult situation, to take her into the hallway where she can warn her that the picture has been spread around and where she can offer Baan support and remind her that she will help her through the rough situation.

SCENE 6

Rewind 2: Scott stops Steven from sending the text

SCOTT:

Bro, you can't have that!

STEVEN:

Why? She sent it to me

ALYSSA AS MC:

Next, we're going to take a look at the moment right before Steven sends the picture to Chris, and ultimately to everyone. How could Scott have reacted to prevent Steven from sending the text? wait Let's watch.

STEVEN:

Chris would love this!

SCOTT:

Dude, Chris would not love this. This is not ok! he grabs Steven's phone
Baan's my friend.

STEVEN:

Give me my phone back

SCOTT:

No, how about this? I'm gonna delete the picture and then I'm going to beat you at Call of Duty.

STEVEN:

Fine, whatever.

ALYSSA AS MC:

Here we see that Scott stood up for his friend Baan and offered her support. He then takes Steven's phone and deletes the picture to make sure that it isn't sent to anyone else. Lastly, he distracts Steven with the video game they were playing. It's important to note that Scott still treats Steven as a friend while still telling him that it is wrong to have the picture. Next, let's look at how Steven could have reacted differently when he received the picture.

SCENE 7

Rewind 3: Steven tells Baan that's not what he meant

STEVEN:

No way!

SCOTT:

What?

STEVEN:

I said less clothes not no clothes

SCOTT:

Wait what?

STEVEN:

Give me a second

Steven turns to his phone to text Baan back. He tells her "I didn't mean it like that. I'll delete the photo."

SCOTT:
What did Baan want?

STEVEN:
Why are you losing so badly?

ALYSSA AS MC:
Even though Steven didn't explicitly ask for the picture, having it on his phone could have gotten him into a lot of trouble. Steven showed respect and did the right thing in deleting the picture. Lastly, let's take a look at how Baan could have responded when Steven asked her for the picture.

SCENE 8

Rewind 4: Baan doesn't send the picture

TEXTING:

STEVEN:
Why don't you send me a picture of you with less clothes on?

Baan reads the message and hesitates. She looks in the mirror and confirms to herself that she looks ok and that she likes the way she looks, deciding not to take the photo.

BAAN:
Why don't you send me a picture of you in a clown costume?

STEVEN:
Why would I do that?

BAAN:
Exactly.

ALYSSA AS MC:
Initially, Baan was feeling pressure from the media to look a certain way, so she asked Steven for validation on the way she looked. Eventually, Baan realized that she does not need to take her clothes off in order to prove that she is attractive

We all have the power to be active bystanders. If anyone in this room hears others making sexist comments or playing toward gender stereotypes, we have the power to use our voices and take a stand, challenging those comments and stereotypes, promoting gender equality, and ultimately making an impact and stopping violence against women.

GOOD PEOPLE ACT NOW

Good People Act Now (GPAN) is a community group of young people in Broadmeadows VIC working to end violence against women and promote gender equality.

Past Events include:

- You the Man: A role play segment about different characteristics linked to domestic violence. Following was a live Q&A with family violence experts.
- Soccer Tournament: Boys ages 16-20 played in a round robin tournament where people came together to discuss violence against women and spread awareness.

- Bring prevention activities to the community of Broadmeadows and the surrounding area
- Meet fortnightly on Wednesdays at the Banksia Gardens Community Services to plan future events

- Sign the pledge to say No to Violence Against Women
- Promote healthy, respectful relationships
- Empower young girls who aspire to lead
- Discourage double standards

For GPAN's recruitment package, we first created pamphlets with information on what the group is, what VAW is, and a plethora of statistics related to the issue. The main purpose of these pamphlets is to raise awareness of the group and educate youth on the issue in an attempt to recruit more members. GPAN discussed possible improvements to their old pamphlet with our group. The old pamphlet had a very dull and lack-luster design, with slightly outdated information, and poor wording. Our team redesigned the pamphlet with a newer, more engaging design that will draw the eye to the updated information presented.

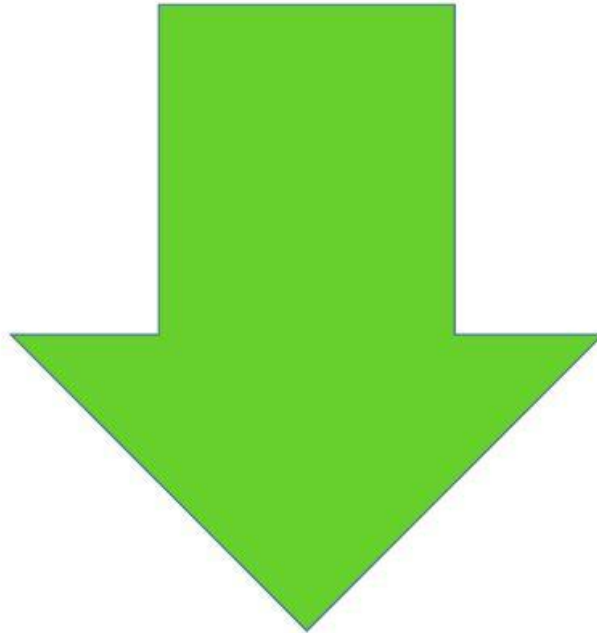

SUPPLEMENTAL MATERIALS E—POSTER DRAFT

GPAN was also looking for a new poster to be placed in key locations around the community, such as in schools, malls, sports clubs, or any place that serves as a high-traffic area for the younger demographic. The main concern with the old poster was the "busy" design, which may distract viewers from easily finding necessary information on the group. Our group worked with our sponsor to determine the most pertinent information to be presented. Using her recommendations, our team created a new poster for the recruitment package, which can be seen in above, that has a more organized layout and the most important facts presented to influence viewers to join the cause.

What were the biggest issues you ran into while trying to navigate the site?

Test test test

ddd

Layout is a little unorganized and hard to follow (link bar has an awkward second line with just one item, pages are very vertical and require a lot of scrolling, no idea what the "Quick Escape" buttons are supposed to be (one links to weather.com, the other to ABC news, like wut))

Their mobile version is not good, navigation isn't clear, and what you were looking for could be under more than one location
Nothing really.

Taking the pledge page either didn't load right in my web browser (safari), so the button to take the pledge was a really small link. Pages also just didn't load. May just be bad CityEdge wifi or a combination. There was no context as to what is on the page (like a side bar with a "table of contents" like tab, so I didn't know what to expect to see on any page I navigated to — probably means I missed out on things if I didn't read word for word. The escape button was confusing, especially since it brought me to a really slow loading webpage (weather.com). Not sure if the button is supposed to do more than just navigate away from their website (like distract the user). If it's jus to navigate people away, then they should consider loading a page most users have cached since that would be must faster / effective for slow connections (ie, google.com.au).

Not sure what the prioritization of information was but it seems less important data is presented before important things. Also there is no attention grab on the homepage

There were instances where the website seemed to be less structured and more of images and text randomly placed. This could be from cross compatibility between browsers though (i'm using Chrome).

No concerns

I was on the mobile site so some of the menus weren't immediately visible, there was a lot of scrolling

All the logos at the top lumps on top of each other if the page isn't full screen.

I had it open in split screen, things were compressed sideways sometimes (logos at top).

loading the videos by gpan on bystander stuff took way too long. The other videos were quicker there is no "who are we" page

What suggestions would you make in terms of the site's organization?

Test test

ddd

Not everything needs to be huge, you can condense things so more fits on the screen

Put all videos in one location and more simply label folders

The videos were in some random places around the website (like the locally made videos)

Definitely the remark about showing what an entire page has to offer in a side bar of some sort, or more creative means.

See previous question.

More compact

I don't think you need an other languages tab on the top. Maybe just include that in the footer?

Overall it's fairly well organized but the mobile site could use a little less scrolling

Nothing really

Add a home page button, the logo works but it took me a bit to figure it out.

it is not very attractive, esp homepage. Make easier to get to videos, make places that help more obvious and accessible

Do you have any feedback on the presentations and/or discussion? If so, what?

A further step could be to teach kids in schools to then present to their peers

I like the humor

Presentation was fantastic and a great way to explain the topic

No

Excellent presentation skills. Clear acting and speaking.

The texting dialogue is a little slow

No, I loved it all.

I felt that the presentation did a great job of not trivializing these issues. Other videos I've seen with this kind of message portrayed scenes where the right thing to do was obvious.

It was awesome and well organized

No it was great!

They did a great job- very relevant topic

It was good but a bit long

No, I was not there

Maybe break up the speakers somehow perhaps a bit of a long block

Were you surprised by anything in the performance? Did you learn anything new?

No

Sexting is illegal in Australia

Deleting is always the answer

It was strong

I was surprised Steven could get in trouble even though she willingly sent the picture.

I was surprised how savage Steven is

I like the way it was structured as an interactive discussion.

I was surprised by how well everyone acted.

That the problem in the play would have been solved in many ways.

It was nice to see how to address the problems at different stages.

Great topic

Yeah I learn what a feminist is

The importance to step in a situation like this.

Not surprised but impressed it's important to see what the behaviour bad and good are

What scene had the most impact on you?

How ramifications can escalate so quickly
When scott was like steven dont be a dick
Baan running out of the room
I only saw the skit
The scene i just described
The moment Baan stepped out of the test room
It was funny until she went to take the picture of herself and that moment was the most impactful. There was so much implied in that portion and it meant so much.
The scene in the classroom. I feel like most people in Regina's situation wouldnt take action but the skit showed it's never too late.
When the person who received the message but didnt act maturely on it.
The one where scott intervened.
The scene where baan was removed from class
That the guy at first didnt think of the impact on the girl's life
When Steven deleted the photo
The group laughing at the girl it just felt horrible people dont think about consequences

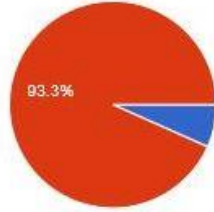

Do you have any general feedback on the forum as a whole?

Keep speakers to time
A strong b plus
You guys are amazing
Not really
Awesome job!
Nah, I wasn't here for most of it unfortunately
No
I thought the whole thing was very well thought out and executed.
Nope
Nope
No- great job!!
Maybe make it a bit shorter
Nice job
It was great perhaps some of the content of the speakers would have gone over the heads of younger people because of jargon

This hero section features a background image of a diverse group of people. The text is centered and reads: "What is Good People Act Now?" followed by "We are a community group in Broadmeadows, Victoria working to end violence against women." Below this, three bullet points are listed: "Passionate about gender equality?", "Concerned about family violence and want to do something about it?", and "Interested in becoming a mentor?". A dark blue button with the text "Contact Us!" is positioned at the bottom center. The "G-PAN" logo is partially visible at the bottom of the image.

Do you know the different types of violence?

Did you know that violence against women can occur in six different forms?

Beyond just being physically violent, a victim can experience emotional scarring, sexual abuse, financial entrapment, psychological damage, and social control from an abusive partner.

Take a look at this infographic (on the right) for examples on each area of violence.

RELATIONSHIP VIOLENCE IN VICTORIA

- 1/3 1 in 3 women between the ages of 18 and 64 has experienced physical violence in a relationship.
- 1+ At least one woman dies every week at the hands of a current or former partner.
- 1/4 1 in 4 women has experienced emotional violence in a relationship.
- 3x Women are 3 times more likely to experience violence at the hands of a current or former partner.
- 1/5 1 in 5 women has been the victim of sexual violence.
- 60,000 Over 78,000 cases of family violence were reported in 2019.

What reasons would men commit violence?

How can you help?

- Encourage couples to treat each other kindly
- Encourage your mates to speak respectfully about women
- Encourage young girls to aspire to be leaders
- Encourage men in your family to share housework
- Encourage young boys to express their feelings

- Discourage people from taking advantage of women
- Discourage people from putting their girlfriend or boyfriend down
- Discourage violent attitudes and excuses
- Discourage double-standards
- Discourage slut-shaming
