INTER-COLLEGIATES

Tech will send a track team to the Inter-collegiate meet at Cambridge on next Saturday, and in all probability the same men will represent the school as at the Eastern meet at Springfield a week ago. Tech took three places in this meet under adverse weather conditions, and it is believed we will be able to do much better if the meet is favored with good weather. Coach Peck has had the men working hard all the week, and some good time is being made, especially in the 100-yard dash, O'Neil covering the distance in ten seconds flat. Haselton is back into condition and he is expected to show quite a lot in the weights at least.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Cosmopolitan club was held last Wednesday evening at 6:30 at the Hong Fong restaurant. Practically the entire membership of the club was present, together with Professor Jennings of the Chemistry Department and Mr. Anthony, our new "Y" secretary, as guests of honor. The affair was a pronounced success, in every way, and should go far toward binding together the men of many lands who are sharing the advantages of Tech. Professor Jennings contributed materially to the good cheer by his after dinner remarks. Before adjourning the club voted ten dollars from its treasury to the campaign for W. P. I. scholarships in the Philippines, as a measure of constructive cosmopolitanism.

Prof. Z. W. Coombs, head of the English department, is to serve as one of the three judges at the Brown-Wesleyan debate tonight at Brown university. The other judges are Prof. Gettell of Amherst and Prof. Wetzel of Yale law school. The question to be debated is: "Resolved, that immigration into the United States should be prohibited for five years after the ratification of the peace treaty."

TECH-CLARK CONCERT

The annual Tech-Clark concert, held last Wednesday evening in Mechanics hall, was a great success from the musical point of view but the attendance was most disappointing. Considering the size of the hall there was only a handful present. Aside from the financial loss involved, it is to be regretted that so many missed this opportunity to enjoy the splendid musical talent of the combined colleges. Half the men on the Hill have no idea of what the Tech Musical Association can really do, and it's time we began to appreciate its work more. With the idea of stimulating interest in the various musical organizations the program of the concert is printed below. Tech's snappy Mandolin club made a special hit, while the outstanding feature of the Clark program was its fine quartet. The concert was followed by dancing until one o'clock. The committee in charge was Leland Stone of Tech and Harris H. Hunt of Clark. The guests of honor were Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Dodd, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. French, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Randolph, Dr. and Mrs. G. F. White, Prof. and Mrs. H. P. Fairfield, Prof. and Mrs. W. L. Jennings, Prof. and Mrs. C. D. Knight, Prof. and Mrs. H. B. Smith.

TECH STRANGLES TRINITY BY 11-0 THO' RAIN STOPS FARCE IN SIXTH

Springfield Y. M. C. A. Whitewashes Tech in Sad Fracas 9-0

W. P. I. HAS NOW WON FOUR OUT OF FIVE GAMES

Springfield Y. M. C. A. College won from Tech in a very slow game last Wednesday, by the score of 9 to 0. Sloppy fielding was the keynote of the playing of both sides but unfortunately by the Tech men especially. They made a total of five errors, all of which counted in the run getting of the visitors. Although Bagley pitched air tight ball with the exception of three innings, Springfield piled up a list of ten hits from his delivery. This combined with the poor support meant the downfall of Tech. Carlson dropped a pop fly which should have retired the side and thus let in an extra run, and Freeland did not seem able to put his hands on the ball at all when it was in his territory.

Tech's old weakness at the bat cropped out unexpectedly again and the fellows did not seem able to hit the ball when the hits were most necessary. With the exception of the second inning the first half of the game was close and interesting. In the second, Springfield scored three runs on two hits, assisted by three errors by Tech. Bagley held the visitors runless until the seventh inning, when they broke loose again for two more runs. They added four more in the eighth and the game was sure put on ice. Cy Campbell had a good day to his credit, having five putouts and no errors against his name.

Twombly, who pitched for Springfield in the last half of the game scored the longest hit of the game with his three-bagger, and Capt. Carlson of Tech banged out a dandy two-bagger.

Tech made up for its defeat at the hands of Springfield college last Wednesday when it handed Trinity a score of 11 to 0 in six innings. The old jinx of inability to hit was floored with a bang and the Boynton Hill boys got to the opposing pitcher at will with a result as seen above. Old Jupe Pluvius made the game a damp one while it lasted and finally caused it to be called when he unloosed the floodgates and drenched the Alumni Field.

Harold Hunt pitching his second game of the season continued the fine record made in his first game and held the visitors to one lone scratch hit. So far this season only one clean hit has been made from Hunt's delivery. After the first inning only one man reached second base. Hunt is credited with eight strikeouts and two assists and also hit the ball when the hit was needed. Dick Mason had a fine day at the bat and caught a good game as well. Coach Swasey had the lineup shifted for this game and the new combination worked better than the old one had. Stoughton played third and Kittredge went to second. Harney was seen in the right garden but did not have any opportunity to show the fans just what his ability is.

The first inning Trinity managed to get two men on and none out. Hunt just settled down to business and his good pitching prevented a run from getting on the score book. In the second Tech started their own heavy artillery and when the smoke cleared away four runs had been chalked up. In this inning Mason came through with a hit that scored Carlson and Titcomb. Mason stole second and Harney received a pass. When Hunt slammed the sphere into center field Mason crossed the rubber and Harney scored on Stoughton's roller to Curtis who was slow in fielding the ball. In the fourth, the bases were filled with one out and Campbell knocked a liner to King who knocked the ball down but could not make the play. Mason scored on this one. McCaffrey was passed again filling the bases, and when Titcomb went out, Cram to Reynolds, Harney scored. Carlson slammed a hot grounder to

BOOST TECH

EDITORIAL

As supporters of Tech activities, and, incidentally, acting spokesmen, so to speak, for the student organizations on the Hill, we deem it our duty to enter a complaint on their behalf. This complaint, which is, indeed, highly justifiable, we believe the students will likewise view as such, and that an appeal to honor will suffice to remedy the situation.

Quite obviously, the success of school or college organizations such as we have here on the Hill, among which might be mentioned the musical clubs, athletic teams, and student societies, depends greatly upon their advertising policies. Entertainments, dances, athletic contests, or in fact any movement intended for the financial benefit of the society, must be widely advertised to insure adequate support.

A common procedure among our organizations here, in this connection, is the posting in conspicuous places in the various buildings on the Hill, hand-painted and carefully designed placards advertising the various events. Many of these posters may really be classed as works of art, such skill and artistic taste do they display. They are drawn by local talent and show a great expenditure of time and thought, for which much credit is due.

Of late, these posters have disappeared within a short time after their initial appearance upon the bulletin boards. This leads us to believe that there are apparently some among us who have little respect for the property of others. These signs are strictly the property of the organizations through whose efforts and for whose purpose they were posted. While it is true that these make an attractive decoration for a room, the other man's rights must be considered, as through this medium of advertising depends in no small measure the success of Tech activities, and thereby the perpetuation of Tech spirit. A continued practice of this sort will soon undermine the efforts of those working for the best interests of the Institute.

It is also very discouraging to those who make these posters to have them stolen before their intended purpose is accomplished, and thus they feel that their time and pains are wasted. These artists are the ones upon whom will depend the illustrating of such publications as the "Aftermath," and any deterrent on their efforts now will have almost disastrous effect upon the school at large.

No loyal student will, upon careful thought, allow his own petty desires to work as an impediment to the interests of his college, and we sincerely hope and believe that this comment will bring results and that true Tech spirit will rally to the cause.

Cram, who threw poorly and Campbell and McCaffrey scored on the error. Kittredge hit to deep right, scoring Carlson, but was out when he tried to stretch the hit into a three-bagger. In the fifth Mason crossed the pan once more on an error by Nichols. Trinity went out in 1-2-3 order in the sixth and after a consultation of coaches Umpire Bolack called the game. Score:

JUNIOR TRIP

Last Wednesday the Junior Mechanics had a very interesting inspection trip through the Taft, Pierce & Co., Woonsocket, R. I., in the morning and the Brown & Sharpe Co., Providence, R. I., in the afternoon. The men were surprised at the accuracy of the workmanship demanded by both firms. The machinery of propellers, cutting of radial and worm gears, automatic screw cutters, and many other things were of great interest to the Mechanics. Micrometers for measuring to the one hundred-thousandth part of an inch were also shown. The students are greatly indebted to Prof. Fairfield for making such an interesting trip.

OPEN MEETING OF SIGMA XI

There will be an open meeting on Thursday evening at eight p. m. of Sigma Xi society in the Electrical Engineering lecture hall. Mr. C. H. Bierbaum of Buffalo will speak on "Bearings."

Prof. F. W. Roys states that all interested are invited to attend.

ALICE KISSED ME

Yesterday, for the first time, Alice kissed me. Her rosy lips lingered on my cheeks for one heavenly instant.

When I walked to the club it was as if everyone knew of my radiant happiness. The newsboys stared at me; an old woman winked at me; my father shook his fist at me from the car window; George and Bertie laughed happily as they passed me on the street; five pretty girls smiled at me.

When I reached the club, Jenkins looked at me and brought me a hand mirror.

I do wish Alice would use paler rouge on her lips.— Washington Square Dealer.

TECH TO GET UNION NEXT SATURDAY

The baseball team makes its second trip of the season this Saturday out to Schenectady, N. Y. Union College is planned as the next victim. At least, it is figured that way.

West Point, Williams, and Colgate have beaten Union and it is naturally hoped that Tech will be added to the list.

The team has entirely recovered from its little slump of the middle of last week. All kinds of pep was shown in the game against Trinity, although the outcome was never in question.

Gentlemen of the Noble Nine, we wish you luck and plenty of it.

PAY THAT BLANKET TAX

The NEWS has found it necessary to stop giving copies to men who have not yet paid their Blanket Tax. This does not go into effect until next week, but at that time there will be no extra copies for men who have not paid up.

You can pay that Blanket Tax. You intend to pay it or you would not have signed up. Then why not pay it now? The Athletic Department cannot bother to give rebates on admission to the games, and the NEWS cannot afford to give its copies away.

Everything costs money nowadays. If you want the various organizations to keep right up to scratch, you must support them.

INTER-FRATERNITY BASEBALL

But one game was played this week by the early-risers. That was on Friday morning, when Theta Chi beat Phi Gamma Delta by a score of 13 to 9. Hits went everywhere.

RECEPTION FOR NEW Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY

About fifty men turned out Tuesday afternoon to welcome our new Y. M. C. A. secretary, Willard Anthony, or "Bill" as he hopes to be known by his friends at Tech.

It is unfortunate that more men could not have been there to meet one who is going to be so important a figure on the Hill.

At this time Mr. Joseph C. Robbins, the Field Secretary of the Baptist Missionary Society, and one of the founders of the Jaro Industrial School in the Philippines, told of the great work done at that school, its prospects, and organization, and commended Tech highly upon choosing such a live and coming institution as the object of its campaign to furnish five hundred dollars' worth of scholarships to be known as the W. P. I. scholarships.

After the meeting tickets were sold for a chicken dinner given by the ladies of the Pleasant street Baptist church and at which Mr. Robbins spoke on the opportunities college men have of helping foreigners in the East.

First Lieut. M. Harris Cutler, '17, of the Tank Corps, and Warrant Machinist Henry B. Moelter, ex-'19, of the Naval Reserve Force, were local visitors at Tech during the past week.
