Dear Duane:

At the successful conclusion of the Commission on Government Productivity, I would like to thank you for the hard work, commitment, and expertise you brought to the effort. Your personal contributions and the support you garnered from the business community were key factors ensuring the attainment of the Commission's mission.

The Commission's work provides a model for successful public/private partnerships. The value brought to state government from this venture will continue through successive administrations and legislatures as the fundamental changes you recommended in the way the state conducts business, take root and flourish.

Working with you and other members of the Commission was a true pleasure. I will count it as a highlight of my administration with the State of Colorado.

Sincerely,

Roy Romer
Governor
