Looking For

- Unique information which can't be found elsewhere
- Interesting stories with information about culture and architecture that she will remember later on
- Brief is best
- Ability to go at her own pace and rewind or skip audio as needed

Frustrations

- Too much talking
- Too many forgettable dates and facts

Bio

Amelia is on vacation by herself in Japan. She did a little bit of general research on places to visit during her trip. Amelia has very little experience with audio tours and is not super interested in them. However, she does like the idea of a GPS based audio tour. Her ideal audio tour would be brief and at a faster pace while also fun and humorous.

Looking For

- Lots of details and historical information
- Additional relevant information about the location
- A thorough tour that notifies her if she misses a site

Frustrations

- Not enough information in the tour
- Boring and overly formal tone
- Missing parts of the tour due to accidentally skipping a site or the audio cutting out

Bio

Mei is on vacation with her family in Japan. She did not do any research on where to visit during her trip. Mei has some experience with audio tours and is fairly interested in them. She is fairly interested in the idea of a GPS based audio tour. Her ideal audio tour would have a passionate tone of voice and lots of thorough and detailed information.

A scenic view of a traditional Japanese garden. In the foreground, a calm pond reflects the surrounding greenery and a building in the background. The building has a traditional Japanese architectural style with a dark roof and light-colored walls. The garden is filled with various types of trees, including pines and deciduous trees. The sky is clear and blue. The overall atmosphere is peaceful and serene.
