Dear Duane:

This week the final draft of the report of our Task Force on Venture and Equity Capital is being written in New York and should be distributed in early January for your perusal. At this time, I want to simply say Thank You for your efforts toward making this worthwhile project reach fruition. As soon as the report is in final form, all of us can work together collectively and through individual efforts to make sure that it receives the right attention.

My best personal wishes to you for a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Sincerely,
