ARE THERE ANY COMMALITIES IN THE COVID-19 STUDENT EXPERIENCE?

As WPI students formally going to Denmark, we understand the academic losses many have faced in the wake of COVID-19. People are missing out on abroad experiences, lab courses, projects, research, or end of year activities. Most notably has been the loss of campus life in the midst of completing classes. We wanted to investigate the college experience during this time, in hopes of gathering a comprehensive understanding of student perspectives at New England schools. We collected survey data from 298 WPI students, and conducted
