MESSAGE FROM MARY...

The Statitrol Blood Bank, held the last week of July and first week of August, was an overwhelming success. With both plants participating, 129 pints of blood were donated.

All Statitrol employees and their families are eligible to take advantage of the blood donated, and need only to contact Mary Tuck if the necessity arises.

I would personally like to thank all of the donors...and all of the people who wanted to give, but were unable to. There just wasn't enough time.

August 18, 1976

Dear Men and Women of Statitrol:

This is 1976. Two hundred years ago the individuals of this struggling nation declared themselves free from greed, inhumanity and oppression. Our ancestors declared in very certain terms that they and this nation could lead the way to a better world.

Standards of excellence in leadership are set by example. By action. How proud our ancestors must be of the individuals of Statitrol who are leading the way today.

It is our understanding that one by one the men and women of this truly American company individually voted to sacrifice a goodly portion of their own well-being and happiness in an inspiring effort to help bring relief to the families and victims of the Big Thompson River Canyon Flood.

Sacrificing your company wide outing and giving your $10,000 to help relieve this tragedy is American leadership that speaks loudly for itself!

Thank you for your part in leading the way to a better world!

In these less than certain times some people may have thought the road too treacherous to travel.

We the men and women of Glen-Mor Realtors salute you.

Sincerely,

GLEN-MOR REALTORS

FROM THE PRESIDENT...

A New Reason To Be Proud

Most of my life, I have thought of pride as a thing you want to hide, or, at least keep it under some control so that people don't think you're a braggart. With experience however, I am convinced more and more that a sense of pride is the most valuable element for happiness or success that one can have.

Each of us have many things to be proud of that we take for granted. For instance, there is pride in God-given things such as your intelligence, your voice, your body, etc. Then, there is pride in what you do, such as being a good athlete; doing a superior job; or accomplishing a personal goal! Are you still with me?...Aren't there a heck of a lot of reasons for pride?

Finally, there are acts of compassion, such as your decision to forego the Statitrol Annual Picnic and donate those funds to the Big Thompson Disaster Relief Fund.

My wife and I attended a backyard party the end of August. Upon arriving, a tall, distinguished man rushed over and shook my hand, thanking me for the "flood donation". Recovering from some barrassment, I explained that it was the decision of all our employees. He immediately responded, "Would you please thank each one of them for me, personally?".

A moment later, his wife, Mary, told me that her husband had lost his brother in the flood.

Therefore, to each of you, a special thanks from Owen Smith, President, Community College, Red Rocks Campus.

Out of your act of compassion, again, we have a whole new reason to be proud of OUR COMPANY.

IMPROMPTU PICNIC...

With typical, good-natured spirits, some of our employees got it together, and held an impromptu picnic on Saturday, August 4, at Genessee Park. Approximately 200 employees, provided their own food and liquid refreshments, and enjoyed the sun and the scenery while participating in softball, volleyball, and general "carousing". (Use your imagination!)

A good enough time was had by everyone to warrant plans for a repeat picnic (hopefully) before the first snowfall. Plans are pending.

ANSWERS...

to questions we ask, because, new employee or old, some of us don't read our Personnel Manuals. So, we're going to try a monthly "Answers" article for your information. Let us know how you like it...or, if you have a question, pass it on to your Smoke Signals Editor (via the inter-company mail).

WHO IS OUR COMPANY NOTARY?

We have two...Nancy Crase in Personnel, and Sam Savajian in Advertising/International.

Their services are free of charge, courtesy of Statitrol.

(Incidentally, both ladies have jobs to perform so, see them when it's mutually convenient. DON'T ask for notarization on an unsigned, or already signed, document! This is illegal and could cause forfeiture of the Notary's bond. If a second party is involved and can not come to the office during normal working hours, your bank has a Notary Public who shouldn't charge more than $1.00 for a simple document.)

PROMOTIONS...

Terry Mann has announced the promotion of Vince Yannett, who will be replacing Jeff Titterington in the Test Equipment Group.

* * *

Changes in the Marketing Department were announced by Jim Zur, Manager of Marketing. Bob Marsik, former Customer Sales Manager, has been promoted to the new position of Product Manager.

Dick Moore has taken the position, vacated by Bob, as our new Customer Sales Manager.

Congratulations and best wishes for success in your new positions!

Wishes for speedy recoveries to Carol Van Lierop, Plant 1, Production...

and to Bill Thayer, Personnel Supervisor, Plant 2, who, we understand, is recovering from his illness...

and to Karen Dhooge (Russ' little daughter), get well soon, all of you.

Our sympathy to Terry Johnson on the recent loss of her sister.

Wedding Bells in August Rang For...

Susan Halley and Randy Jackson, on the 11th...
Marlene McCourt and Dennis Reeves...

and, Maria Garcia and Andy Chavez on the 21st. Our wishes for happiness to all of you!!!

August 23rd saw Chris Christian (Q.A.) on Channel 6's AISHA program. Chris is involved in the East Denver Athletic Program for children, and was interviewed primarily because his team, The Spartans, won the Colorado State AAU Basketball Championship for 13-14 year olds TWO years in a row!

The interview, triggered by the success of the team, covered the concept of the athletic program, which operates on a one-to-one basis.

Our cheers to Chris, and his team, for a successful third year, and hopes for continuing success of their program.

Another T.V. "celebrity", Jeanine Powers, Credit, appeared on Channel 2's Catch-2, program on August 29. Jeanine was interviewed by Pam Carter on a series about "The Divorced Woman". Good show, Jeanine!
