

Investigating the Barriers and Opportunities for Community Participation in Upper Hutt Pest Trapping Initiatives

An Interactive Qualifying Project
Submitted to the Faculty of
WORCESTER POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Degree of Bachelor of Science

By Elleana Paradise
Jacob Steinman
Matthew Tolbert
Colleen Wyatt

Date
March 6, 2020

This document contains a pamphlet which we provided to Pest Free Upper Hutt.

Pest Free Upper Hutt

IT IS EASY, TAKES LITTLE TIME, AND IS TONS OF FUN!

Want to get involved?

If you are interested in getting involved, you can either email pestfreeupperhutt@gmail.com or go to www.pfhv.org.nz for further information. The program gives away rat traps. Traps are free, but we ask for a koha of up to $20. Upon receiving a trap, you will receive information about how to use the trap and you will be put in contact with your regional coordinator.

"I think everybody, a lot, of New Zealanders will identify with native birds, but they don't actually realize that they can do something to make a difference in their own backyard."

- Community Member

www.pfhv.org.nz

Email:

pestfreeupperhutt@gmail.com

PEST FREE
UPPER HUTT
EXPERIENCE BIRDSONG

See Birdlife like You've Never Seen It Before

Beauty, Unmatched

Pest Free Upper Hutt aims to help revitalize the native birdlife in the area. The program began in October 2018, and the community has already seen an increase in birdlife. Birds like the Kaka parrot are back and thriving. Even a wild Kiwi has been seen in the area. There will only be an increase in the amount of birds as the trapping initiative grows.

Join If:

- You care about the birdsong
- You want to help endangered birds regrow their population
- You want to get rid of invasive pests
- You want to leave the world a better place for future generations

