WPI to share $1 million for Technology Reinvestment Project

the Massachusetts Biotechnolgy Research Institute, and the University of Massachusetts Lowell will share in a $1 million grant announced last Friday at the White House as part of President Clinton's Technology Reinvestment Project (TRP). The total estimated cost of this three year project is $2.8 million, more than half of which will be paid by the proposal team.

The announcement featured 66 winners of cost-shared grants for projects that will create new technologies and products, enhance the workers in manufacturing skills, and retain defense workers in new growing industries.

WPI, MBRI, and UMass Lowell will form the Massachusetts Bioengineering Center (MBeC) to retain defense industry engineers for manufacturing jobs in the rapidly growing biotechnology/biomedical industry.

The partnership is focused on meeting the manufacturing engineering needs of Massachusetts' growing biotechnology and biomedical industries by retraining displaced defense engineers.

Some of the features of this program include quick "retooling" in biology and chemistry, a two-track certificate path, a four to six month paid practicum at a biotechnology or biomedical company, and the use of intelligent computer tutoring systems. With some additional work, retrainces can earn a master's degree. "Each of us bring expertises in bioprocessing, biomedical engineering, and industrial representation that

"Each of us bring expertises in bioprocessing, biomedical engineering, and industrial representation that are key to successfully addressing critical needs in manufacturing."

- Robert A. Peura Professor and Head of the WPI Biomedical Engineering Department are key to successfully addressing critical needs in manufacturing," says Robert A. Peura, professor and head of the WPI Biomedical Engineering Department and one of the principal organizers of the center. "Our Applied Bioengineering Center, a mutlidisciplinary research center, will play a key role in the program and serve as a focal point. Our state of the art technical equipment, facilities and faculty will also be part of this retraining effort," he notes.

Congressman Peter Blute believes that the grant will not only help many displaced defense engineers to continue to be productive members of the workforce, but also will bring their talent and energy to Massachusetts' expanding biotechnology industry. "I am pleased that Worcester's own WPI and MBRI are on the cutting edge of these defense conversion initiatives," he says.

This was the third wave of TWP awards. Earlier announcements in October awarded WPI and four other universities $8.6 million for a RE-ALIZATION Consortium, an innovative three-year program to remake engineering education. Also in October $30 million was awarded to the Massachusetts Manufacturing Modernization Partnership ($10.6 million from TRP, the remainder from the commonwealth of Massachusetts and from industry) to provide five regional centers across the state to create industrial extension efforts and provide manufacturing expertise through field agents.

National Welding Award WPI students receive

WPI students Kerry M. Bagdonovich, Kathryn M. Coughlin and James N. Woyciesies have received a $750.00 Silver Award in the undergraduate division of the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation's 1993 Pre-Professional Awards Program. The national program, which recognizes excellence in college-level engineering research and design, awarded a total of the $15,750 to undergraduate and graduate students across the country.

The WPI students' entry, describing "The Design, Construction and Evaluation of a Universal Arm," was their senior project in the Mechanical Engineering Department. Faculty advisor for the project was Professor Holly K. Ault. In recognition of the Silver Award, WPI also received a $250 grant to be used at the discretion of the school to further educational objectives.

Pre-Professional Program entries were judged by a jury consisting of Foundation Chairman Donald N. Zweip, Professor Emeritus and Department Head Emeritus of Mechanical Engineering, chitectural Engineers, Inc.; Professor Tim Hight, Santa Clara University; and Professor Michael Keefe, University of Del-The James F. Lincoln Arc Welding

WPI; Ms. Robin Greenleaf, P.E., of Ar-

Foundation, established in 1936 by The Lincoln Electric Company to advance the science and application of arc welding, has offered awards annually for 57 years to recognize superior achievements in these fields. Rules brochures and entry forms for the next Awards Program are available in the professional, pre-professional, and school/shop categories, free of charge, from The James F. Lincoln, Arc Welding Foundation, P.O. Box 17035, Cleveland, Ohio 44117-0035.

Nominations sought for the Outstanding Creative Scholarship Award

Courtesy of the Outstanding Creative Scholarship Award Committee

Our committee requests nominations for the BOARD OF TRUST-EES' OUTSTANDING CREATIVE SCHOLARSHIP AWARD for 1994. This year the recipient will be selected for creative scholarships in Engineering or Management. The award will be presented at the faculty convocation to be held on April 26, 1994. In order to be eligible, the recipient must have been a full-time faculty member at WPI for at least five years by May 1, 1994. Previous recipients of the award and members of the Outstanding Creative Scholarship Award Committee are not eligible. The nomination deadline is noon on Friday, December 17, 1993. Letter of nomination, including a list of references with mail addresses, telephone/fax numbers, and e-mail addresses, as available, resume, reprints of publications, and other supporting materials should be sent to Professor Ryszard J. Pryputniewicz, Department of Mechanical Engineering, Higgins Laboratories-Room 122. A full set of rules for the Award is attached.

Rules:

- 1. The recipient must be a member of the WPI faculty.
- 2. Members of the Selection Committee and previous recipients of the award are ineligible
- 3. Nominations may be submitted by members of the faculty, department heads, administrations, and students.
- 4. In 1993-94 academic year, the recipient will be selected for creative scholarship in Engineering or Management; in 1996-97, in Natural, Computer, or Mathematical Sciences; and in 1997-98, in Humanities or Social Science. This five-year cycle will start again in 1998-99.

5. The award should be for continuing creative scholarship over at least a five-year period at WPI rather than for a particular single accomplishment, although naturally an individual brilliant accomplishment should be weighed by the Committee.

6. The Selection Committee will select the award recipient by considering the creative scholarship of the nominees. They may solicit scholarship materials from the nominators, nominees, department heads, or other as necessary. Such supporting materials should reflect a minimum five-year period at WPI.

Workshop planned to restructure WPI's Program

by Lance Schachterle Assistant Provost for Academic Initiatives Reprinted from a memo dated 10 December 1993

WPI is fortunate that we have a strong first year program that by many measures (such as retention of students into the second year) ranks high in the country. We are also fortunate that many initiatives are taking place to enhance the first year academic experience at WPI, and faculty pursuing these initiatives will be invited to make presentations at the workshop. But a number of recent reports suggest that we may be missing some opportunities to prepare our students for their later team-based integrative and project work with a first year program that offers much of the disciplinary content in isolated courses. Please join us for this important workshop to identify ways of ensuring that the full potential of a WPI education can be realized by starting with a strong first year program.

With the assistance of the WPI Committee on Student Advising and many faculty and staff, we have organized a workshop for Monday, January 10, 1994 in FOUNDERS BASEMENT to discuss ways in which our current first year program could be enhanced. (Please note new date and location.) Our schedule for the day is as follows:

WPI got it's first real snow of the season this past Saturday.

Preliminaries and caffeine 8:30 - 9:00 9:00 - 9:30 Opening session: background and contexts 9-30 - 10-15 Posters & discussion

10:15 - 11:45 Breakouts - what do we see the problems to be?

11:45 - 12:15 Combined discussion

12:15 - 1:15 Lunch 1:15 - 2:00 Brief Presentations on initiatives/Questions & Answers

2:00 - 3:30 Breakouts-what do we see the solutions to be?

3:30 - 4:30 Combined discussion/where do we go from here? 4:30 - 5:30

Reception for all Some of the issues we intend to address include:

o role of mathematics and science in the engineering curriculum;

o role of engineering in the first year;

o pairing of science and mathematics courses to cross-pollinate; o possible role for a first year project;

o first year labs, especially balance between "hands-on" and computer modelling;

o formal orientation programs; and o education, responsibilities and rewards for faculty concentrating on first year and on later years. We invite participation from both students and faculty. Please RSVP if you intend to participate to Mary Kelley in the Project Center at X5366 or by e-mail at mgkelley@jake. She will be forwarding some background material to help frame the discussion.

If you would like to present an initiative relevant to this workshop, please contact me at X5366. Thanks.

Newspeak wishes you a safe and happy Holiday Season

CLUB CORNER

Alpha Phi Omega

Hey folks! First off - a big warm welcome and firm APO handshake to the new brothers - you did it guy and gals. For those of you brothers who couldn't make it to induction or don't know - the ENTIRE pledge class was initiated Thursday night. Remember, it is what you make of it. Once again, welcome. What is the saying - out with the old, in with the new?? Last night we said our goodbyes to our officers and said hello to our new ones:

Sly to Mike D. Pres. Gundy to Jeff SVP MVP Carol to Corinne Jen to Marc FVP Jeff to Amy Tres. Rec. Sec. Marc to Ducker Kim to Greg Corr. Sec. Obie to Melissa Alumni Sec. Dan to Andy Historian John to Patty Publicity Mike D. to Gundy Court Jester

A standing -O- to the new brothers on a successful service project with the girl scouts. The Girl Scouts had a lot of fun (save one who reminds us to Deck the Halls and kiss her

A box & popcorn and a Coke (no coupon required) for their fellowship project as well. The roller-skating was a lot of fun to do and watch (when we finally got there - cough cough Heidi cough cough) and was well worth the bumps and bruises.

I hope you all made it to the 2nd annualdestroy-Marc's apartment-ceremony - oh, I mean the Christmas party...

Well to tie this up:

12 Days of Christmas - APO style

-12 pairs of Secret Santas -11 awesome officers -10 or more B-term burned out brothers... -9 covered doors (or 9 unstained doors) -8 hours per semester -Several servants swearing -6 new serving brothers -5 Horny women (Guess who??) -4 areas of service -3 cardinal principles -Too much time complaining -1 OI-ster in a fraternitree

MCHC&HNY -P

Christian Bible Fellowship

The end is here! (...of B term anyway). That being the case, there is not a lot happening between now and Friday. Wednesday will be our final Prayer and Share meeting of 1993 in Founder's Country Kitchen at 8:00 p.m. as usual. Friday night we will NOT be doing anything - hopefully the majority of us will already be happily at home by our 7 p.m. meeting time! I would like to wish everyone a Merry Christmas, and I hope and pray your break is a good time of much deserved rest and relaxation, and also of growth in your relationship to Jesus Christ or Lord.

"For to us a child is born, to us a son is given, and the government will be on his shoulders. And he will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace." 9:6). What does this really say to us? First and foremost, I would like to remind us of the reason for Christmas - Jesus! It is so easy to get caught up in everything surrounding Christmas that Christ gets put aside. I, for one, want to make an extra effort to celebrate Jesus this Christmas rather than celebrating the things of this world. Beyond just Christmas, we see in this passage some of the nature of Jesus. He is God, not just some good human or a god. This verse also gives insight into what God wants to be for us: in control, our counselor, our God, our father, and our source of true peace. Isn't He wonderful? Have an awesome break, and come back ready for another great year!

Glee Club

Well, B-term in almost over. There are no more rehearsals left for this term. But, for those of you who will be around Friday night after finals, there will be a tree trimming party out at Louis' place. It's a traditional type thing, so you won't want to miss it. Good luck to every one on finals, and enjoy the break while it lasts. Remember that Italy tour payments must be in today, if they are not you are going to have to pay by cashier's check, which will be an added hassle for you. So get the money in soon. Also don't forget the phone-a-thon is going on again tonight. If you signed up, show up. And get those credit card things filled out and into Ted soon. Ok, we have a very good top ten list that was emailed to Scott by Alan a while back. I guess Alan and some of the guys on his floor put it together. So here is the Top Ten Reasons to Date an Engineer:

10.Complementary tutoring.

9.Large earning potential.

8.Can handle stress and strain in relation

7. Know all the dynamics of relative mo tion.

6.Learn about the benefits of friction and viscocity

5.FREE body diagrams.

4. Always back up their hard drives. 3. Trained to do it right the first time.

Specialized in experimentation.

1.Can go all night with no hint of fatigue.

Global Affairs Party

First of all, I'd like to thank all the people who bought our Candy Grams last week. It was really nice of you to do so, and I hope we weren't too annoying We actually reached our goal (which we were thinking about achieving with 1 or 2 more events) just by this event!!! And the most of all, I'd like to thank Shannon Finley, our fundraising committee head, who planned and carried out this event. EXCELLENT JOB Shannon!!!

Conglatulations to Bryan Bordeaux who was inducted for Tau Beta Pi! Happy Birthday to Eric Craft for last week's birthday! and Marie Meier for Dec. 19th!

We had our last event (Internatioal Dining Experience) of the term on Sat. I hope everyone had a good time there. Now, are we ready for Harvard Model UN?

I'll see all of you next year, and have a nice holiday!!!!!

PS.- If you are interested in knowing more about GAP, you are more than welcome. Please contact Hidenori Meiseki, GAP President, at hidenori@wpi.edu or Box 2922. We are open to all the undergraduate students.

Global Awareness of Environmental Affairs

Hi, GAEA persons! I've read through the written responses on the first 100 surveys you guys have collected and returned to me, and the responses have been very exciting! A very strong majority responded with enthusiastic support. I now have the rest of the surveys and we start preparing for our open meeting in January.

Some respondents seemed hungry for some clearly presented information on recycling. From the kinds of responses I read, I expect that our Open Meeting on Recycling will be well attended.

Have a great break! Be ready for the publicity blitz when we get back to promote the campus meeting. RECYCLE!

Lens and Lights

Happy Holidays, everyone! Well, the term is finally winding down and with all the events we had on Saturday, we could use the rest! Events, upcoming and alarming: PAR-TIES! All I am going to say is Friday, The Attack of the Killer Tomatoes, alumni gathering and punch! Be there or be a F- nut!

Hey, Andrew, how DO you spell your last name?:)

And now, for a quote from da Prez: "Now that we've gone through all the trouble of signing up crews, there'll be a blizzard..." Don't we wish!

Oh, Krista.... DUCK!

Hope everyone has a great break- you're all gonna need it because, when we get back, there'll be LnLnLnLnLnLnLnLnLnLnL all over the place! There's First Night Worcester (that's on December 31st, Krista), then TWO theatre productions in C-term! MW Rep will be doing The Deathtrap, with yours truly as LD, Mr. Marr as ME, and Treasurer Chris as AD. Then, there's Masque's Jesus Christ, Superstar a mere two weeks after, with GRW the Weird as AD, and soon to be ex-VP Jon Kemble as LD.

So have a great holiday, rest up and be sure to show up at the first meeting, when we will have the nomination/election procedures explained to us so Dave can finally toss his keys ...

Special Holiday Bonus question: who wrote this stupid Club Corner, anyway?!

By the way, Jon and Dave, who drove? And when do we get to paint "Kemble and Chace" on the side of Dave's truck? :)

See you all next year!

Men's Crew Team

Merry Christmas and Happy New Years to all the rowers out there. Yes we did make it through B term winter workouts, though don't ask me how. Sorry I've missed the last few postings, but things have been hectic. I think everyone should congratulate and support Turner in his decision to try out for the national team - though personally I think its a given that we'll see him in the '96 Olympics. Go Matt! Good job to all the Novices for sticking with the program, I know its tough work, but you guys have to admit that you're all getting in pretty good shape. And as for the Varsity, those 5 who are showing up for practice are getting DAMN FING STRONG! Keep it up everyone. Also remember to SELL SELL SELL those Cow Chip tickets. We really need the donations. And KEEP running and lifting during the whole break, slackers do NOTHING but EAT WAKE! See you all in C term in the weight room, have a good one.

Muslim Student Association

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Assalum-o-Alaikum

Well exams are here and so is vacation. The MSA executive committee has been unable to print the newsleter because no articles were submitted. Therefore, the newsletter will be mailed after vacation and Inshallah, we will have the general body meeting in C term also.

We hope that the members show more participation in MSA activities in spring semester. Again if you want the video copy of the lecture send mail to Box # 2511. The cost is $15 per tape.

Society for Medieval Arts and Sciences

Yes, I know it's been kind of erratic but I writes 'em when I have time.

Well, let's see. Gladden-Fest was December 4. Our own Aydan was named Champion of the Gladden, and two of our other members (Jerry and Ray) won the tournies for Single Short Weapon and Hand and a Half, respectively.

That weekend, an SCA event was also held. It was the Yule Feast held by the Baron and Baroness of Bergental. (I hope I spelled that right.) Our resident full-fledged SCA person (that would be Trish) said that it was a lot of fun, even for a small SCA event of about 150 people. Now, think about it... that is a small one, and it dwarfs Realms events. The SCA people who talked last week said that the Penzic has thousands!

Speaking of SCA, Trish has said that she'll try to bring some warriors out to teach us their brand of fighting, as well as some ladies to show us how to make the kind of beautiful garb they were wearing at the feast.

Up and coming events for Realms: The next event is The Mid-Winter Feast of Blackavar. Not too much is known as yet, but we will find out something. After that, I don't

And for those of you who plan WAY in advance, the Treasurer, Chris Davis, is planning an event for spring break. He'll need help, NPC's and whatever else we can offer. Talk to him about it.

And that's all for now. Everyone have a fun and happy Christmas Break. Come back refreshed and ready to fight!

Society of Pershing Rifles

The end of the semester is upon us, and oh boy was this year something. But don't be sad, next year is sure to just as packed with mundane things to do as this last one was...that is why we are here. So do not forget to top off this year with our final meeting tomorrow, the uniform will be civilian clothes, but there will be a few announcements.

This has been a great year so far, and we need a lot of new pledges to make next year just as good. So if anyone is interested in joining Pershing Rifles, just come on down to our meeting tomorrow night at 7:00 pm in room 035 below Harrington. Anyone can join Pershing Rifles, whether you are a civilian, Navy cadet, Air Force cadet, or an Army

That reminds me, I would like to take this last chance to congratulate our new members one more time. All twelve of you were effectively an experiment in regards to initiation this year. But everyone had a great time that weekend, and we plan on have two day initiations from now on. We through a lot of stuff at these pledges and they pushed on, making it through initiation with smiles and wet sleeping bags. Maybe you can give the next pledge class a few pointers in that area.

CONGRATULATIONS NEW MEM-BERS!! Ayub, Clement, Fleurmond, Gilbert, Maguire, McKoy, Panton, Parodi, Pease, Stewart, Sweet, Tella.

SWE

We wish a happy finals week, we wish you happy finals week, we wish you happy finals weeks, and a great holiday! Our next meeting will be Wednesday, January 19 in Higgins 101 at 7:00pm. Please note the new location. Don't forget to come and bring your friends. Kirsty will be announcing her plans for the year as president. We'll be needing lots of volunteers to join committees. That's all folks. Have a safe and happy holiday!

Water Polo Club

Hello Raging Geeks. Our Vice President, Kris McCadam will not be with us next semester. Before he leaves, we need to elect a new officer who will take over for him when he's gone. Kris has written up some guidelines about how to run the newspaper business, and he would like to give the new officer a little training to prepare him for the job.

Since President Joshua Dobbelaar and Treasurer Rick Smith are Seniors and will be getting pretty busy by the end of the year, it would be a good idea for us to hold complete elections for all positions tonight. This will enable us to transfer the offices during C-Term and prepare us to enter the spring season with a stable executive structure.

Think about nominations for the following described positions. The President is basically the team manager. He coordinates team scheduling, handles administrative details with WPI, supervises the other offices, and generally cares for the affiars of the team. The Vice President manages the Newspaper businsess. He coordinates the details of the business with the newspaper company, handles new subscriptions in coordination with the treasurer, and manages delivery duty. The Treasurer manages all financial matters. He handles incoming newsaper subscriptions (with the Vice President), outgoing team expenses, and budget preparations. The Secretary manages intra-team communications and records. He keeps attendance records, statistics, photo documentation, and coordinates the distribution of team information. Who will you rely on to do these jobs?

We will hold the election tonight, Tuesday the 7th. Meet at 8:00pm in Salisbury Lounge.

Women's Varsity Basketball

Well it's been a while since I have written, but I'm sure everyone knows how hectic life can get! OK, let's talk basketball. No one told me we had a new defense called the token? I love the hour drill....don't you?

Round of applause goes out to Christie and Jenny for making the warm - up tape. It's awesome, especially "Oh What a Night" Becca don't forget about your right foot for next game...OK? Since when can Kim Landry jump? I think we didn't do well against Salve Regina because the identity problem at the beginning of the game just messed everyone up. Tricia, I saw you trying to dive into the popcorn stand! Do we have to travel the Mass Pike to get to any of our away games... I was just wondering!

Come watch us play sometime, it will be an experience you will never forget!

See ya Laurie B.

EIT correction

The fee for the EIT review course covers the text and all other materials, not the test.

LSAT Expert Teachers Permanent GRE Centers Total Training GMAI Call now! MCAT 1-800-KAP-TEST KAPLAN

RULES

GREEK CORNER

AXP

First of all, I would like to thank Neil, Bob, Swallow, and (Rod) Stewart for hazing the hell out of me Thursday night. It almost relieves my conscience from all the crap I caused for a couple of "regular" non-meal plan brothers! Being good sports, though, Eugene and I have agreed to have some "special" brownies too, soo if the victims are still a little sore (from sitting down so long), they can all just reLAX (ative) !

I wasn't the only one to have fun Thursday, however, as "Karate Kid" initials into his finger with broken glass, and Shnoufer took several showers, but forgot to take his clothes off first.

The fun carried over into the weekend, as the Around the World party left most of us in a "World" of hurt ... And if that wasn't engouht, the brothers' Christmas party followed, where we witnessed Santa Spoon do his best impression of a really, really drunk person, as well as the now annual "Diet Coke Massacre".

On to business: if anyone wishes to contest fines or bring up an important issue, come to Exec tomorrow morning! This time we plan on having a breakfast buffet to make it worth our while, though - Milla's making the Stove Top, Stacy's bringin' burgers, Kairness is whipping up some corn, and I'm bringing dessert! We're expecting a record turnout, so you better get there early!

(Hey, do I smell a raid attempt, or is Koala just making popcorn again?...)

Well, that's all for '93, so enjoy break, and we'll see everyone in January, except for - !

$A\Gamma\Delta$

Congratulations to Kristen Demming for her pinning to Dave Wheeler of Lambda Chi Alpha and Laurie LaRouche for her pinning to Mike Lohan of Sig Ep.

"Be careful - they tip"

Phone chains and more phone chains...yes I made it to the bottom of the list.

Raids, raids. Guad you were all so active in the early morning hours!

Thanks to Patti, Kari, Karen F., Lynn, Jen Lord, Sue M., Deb A., Lexie, and Monika L. for helping out with the Art for Aids benefit on Saturday... "Would you like a red dot on that?"

Spoon decorating on Sunday was a blast And the best Christmas special ever - the Grinch, Charlie Brown...personally, I like Nestor!

And the Christmas Formal - It was GREAT! The preparties...and setting up...Thanks for bringing the gifts for orphans.

BECOME A WPI

STUDENT

AMBASSADOR!

SHARE YOUR ENTHUSIASM

ABOUT

WPI WITH NEXT YEAR'S

FRESHMEN!

Visit your high school over term break and/or phone prospective WPI students from your high school to let them know why WPI can be one of their college options. An informational table will be set up in Morgan from 11:00am to

1:00am on Tuesday, December 14 and Wednesday, December 15th. Sign up then or stop by the Admissions Office for more information. Please contact Mike Smith, x5286.

Thursday was the last basketball game for Bterm... Great job Alpha Gams. And Sunday was the last basketball game for B-term... Great job Alpha Gams. And Sunday was the 1/2 way pearl ceremony, and the secret santa gifts...

27 people are going to the Bahamas...BAM!...Don't forget, Kayann needs the balance by the 14th.

I would like to say goodbye and best wishes to Kristen Demming and Sue Mockus. Enjoy "the real world"! We love you and will miss you.

Steph and pipe cleaners?!

Fartnocker!?

In one week, we will be outta here! Good luck with exams everyone!

Happy Hanukkah, Merry Christmas, and Happy New Year! See you next year!

$AT\Omega$

In my haste last week I forgot some officers: Treasurer - Chris Dupuis, Marriage Counselor -Chris Dupuis, Anal Retentive Chairman - Chris Dupuis.

With all these offices Chris still had time to write a book: "How to Be Whipped and Love it!"

Well what's new? Darlene and Peavey? Sorry, thats old. For all you of hanging on the edge of your seats in waiting. The kittens have arrived! 4 adorable jet black kittens. Congratulations

As we roll into break, good luck to everyone on finals and have Happy Holidays. Brian B. are you ever gonna answer my question?

$\Delta\Phi E$

Well, this is the last article of the year, and I never missed a week:) We ice skated Sunday and went bowling on Tuesday. Jami got Rach off the hook, by trying to bowl into the crowd instead of down the lane. And Maria had EMS by her side because her thumb got stuck in the ball. Speaking of thumbs, mine accidentally caught on fire. Don't

I hope everyone had fun at Lambda Chi Friday night for the social. Thanks for everything, guys. And a special thanks to Greg and Jeff for coming Wednesday night. Congratulations to those women who received bids this week.

Here's some predictions for Christmas break... Rach gets some hot rollers, Danielle loses her basketball in a 14' snow drift, Donna gets lost in that snow and isn't found 'til spring break, Jami gets a clue, Matz gets Krobbis a salad shooter and gets what she really wants, Delphine get a home security system, our pins finally come in, and a piece of coal goes to...

Happy Holidays to everyone, and Happy New Year, too (hopefully I'll be here). Good luck on finals... break is only 3 days away and 27 days long (and lonely) so make the most of it... I'm dreaming of a white Christmas... Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow...Keep spirits high

ΦΚΘ

- Wassel, maybe next time you and Bella should use protection?
- Thanks to Sweet Will for continuing to make the gvesis at KAP feel welcome.
- Steve Duncan and Jimmy C., lost but not
- Ruck, cuddler of the month with 132 minutes.
- Wonder you were talking to? - Pietszch and Marsh, tell me why the caged
- The brotherhood ventures to guess that Marsh will sell Pietszch to an inmate named Bubba for a case of cigarettes and the brotherhood ventures to guess that Pietszch won't mind.
- Pietszch, lose the cap or give it back to Sully. - Let it be known that the Phi Kap house will be
- holding a computer party in the near future.
- Joe, no matter what the calipers say, you'll always be a load...
- Bennet, who've you been sneakin' up the back stairs with?
- It's a trap, retreat!
- Guz proverb: A Guz in the hand is worth two
- Now that the position has been passed on, all the Queer complaining can stop.

$\Phi\Sigma\Sigma$

Hey Phi Sig Sigs!

The end of this busy term is nearing and I hope everyone does well in finals! Rest up over break, C-term is going to be very busy! Thanks go out to Professor Vassallo for the great dinner and the cookies! We all love ya' and appreciate everything you do for us!

Congratulations go out to Jen Shaw for being inducted into Tau Beta Pi! Good job, Jen!

In honor of the holiday season, I whipped up a

Twas the night before finals And all through the pretty house All the sisters were studying-Even Sue Waz.

All of the pots were clean, The drain was free of hair In the hopes that X-MAS break

Soon would be there. All of the pledges were nestled snug in their beds While visions of sisterhood danced in their heads. Mandy in her kerchief and I with my Orgo buddies Had just settled down for a long night of studies. When all of the sudden, there arose such a clatter I sprang from my desk to see what was the matter. I drew open the blinds and looked, much dismayed To see the SAE plegdes pulling a raid We chased Merry X-MAS all you Phi Sigs, And to all, a great break!

them away, for our pretty house's sake -

Thanks go out to Sarah Mac for her help with that poem! Special hellos to Liz H., Heather Z., Robyn, and Molly (from your big sisters), and Liz A. and Heidi H. (from Moose).

Merry Christmas! Have a great break!

ΣAE

Greetings everyone. First off, good luck to everyone on their finals (Bouche, we know you'll need it!) It was quite a week for events. One of the most memorable being the Christmas caroling escapade. D'Annello looked awefully cute in that jester outfit. One good thing that came out of it was Sasha got a new wardrobe, now he has 2 outfits. Good job pledges with the Christmas Tree raid, you should have brought your girlfriend Bertha along to help out - we know how much you hate being without her. While on the subject of the holidays, we would like to wish Hen a Happy

Congratulations to the B-term hoops team for their glorious victory over AGD. Dufort played a stellar game, I wonder what sparked this? Could it be the future? Lately, Al has been in an everchanging state of whipped/single; which is it? Becker, good job on picking up Yudi's old groceries. A special congratulations goes out to Mun who passes the VC torch after dipping the stick. "Tall Yudi" - he's interested in good times. Good job Weenie, a.k.a. "Haywood J.B. Me" on scoring 97% on his EE test after the foolishness of Happy Hour. "Wide Yudi" had a great time partying in the nuer Thursday night, we heard it was a bit cold. Well, I hope everyone has a safe and happy holiday. Until next year...Five Apples.

work to do, for you will never accomplish anything but make empties out of full bottles, I may never get a Suff advisor. With that in mind here is Spam's Top 10 dating advisory for the week,

Top 10 Ways to NOT get a phone number from

- a nice lookin' girl at a party 10. Say, "Hi, my name is Heath, and I won't
- always be this short" 9. Ask her if she is really a lesbian
 - 8. Brag of your prowess with Kitchen Manager
- 7. Ask her if she'd like to wear your cheesy Notre Dame hat
- Tell her she still looks good, even though you aren't even beer goggling yet
 - 5. Show her just how small your hands are
- 4. Talk of your many sexual disfunctions
- 3. Pull out a can of Skoal and begin to dip, ask her if she would like some
- 2. Repeatedly grope her to her dismay
- 1. Have Greg Arifian get on the PA and ask "Where is your ex-girlfriend?"

On a lighter note, thanks to all of Santa's little elves who decorated the Christmas tree while we were off solving the problems of the world, it looks great. Be sure to congratulate Scott Hannula, Hank McTague and Angelo Sorrentino on their graduation, don't worry Alex... your time will come (hope it's before mine!). Thanks to those dear Alpha Gams for their fine caroling, even you secretary girl. Thanks to all those who came to sing to me in bed Thursday night, it was much appreciated. Hey Noonan, be careful and tread lightly on those empty milk containers. This is the last Greek Corner before break so have Merry Christmas and

Hook forward to seeingy'all next year. UNGDOW!

Ahh, Yeah... It was the night before Christmas and all through the house not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse. The mantle was littered with cups of egg-nog and the fireplace crackled while burning a log. The brothers were settled all snug in their beds, while visions of sports cups danced in their heads. I had just turned off the light when I looked out the window, into the night. What to my wondering eyes did appear but Swank in a sleigh pulled by 8 tiny reindeer! Santa sat next to him with a big cheery grin and I thought to my self had I finished the gin? But no sooner had I said it that it became quite clear, Santa had needed Swank's help this year. It seems his sleigh had thrown a rod and Butland was busy laying down sod. Quick like a rabbit he called Theta Chi,but couldn't get Houly and neither could I. Jake and Bowie tried to help with Babb at their side, but Santa said, "I'd rather commit suicide:" Swank was the man as no one else would, not Emmitt, nor Sacco, not even REMinstien could. Santa offered Swank all he could, "Have my last piece of chocolate, it's warm and good." But Swank declined the offer so dear, he mearly asked to steer the reindeer. So with that Santa laughed and shouted outloud, "Onward to Boston, Chicago, and St. Cloud"! And there out my window was the end of the story, as the reindeer touched down in all the Lord's glory. Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night...PEACE, gp1.

$Z\Psi$

Diane, it is 4:59 p.m., Friday, December 10th. This will be my last entry.

- 2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2/3 cup shortening
- 2 teaspoons vinegar 4 tablespoons cold water
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon cinnamon

6 apples

Mix flour and salt. Cut in shortening. Add vinegar. Gradually add cold water and toss lightly with a fork untill the dry ingredients have been absorbed. Roll out for two 9" pie crusts. Pour sugar and cinamon into bottom pie crust. Add peeled and sliced apples. Cover with second pie

Bake 10 minutes at 450 degrees. Reduce heat to 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Eat and get fat.

TOP TEN REASONS WHY THIS IS MY LAST ARTICLE

10. Must devote ALL my time to blowing off philantropy.

9. The creature under the fridge wants the job. 8. The music at our last party gave me a malignant turnor which will spread throughout my body eating it away from the inside out untill I lie rotting and dead but still humming that damn Janet Jackson song.

7. "I need to brush my teeth."

- 6. Joining Aluminum Can Collectors Anonymous
- Its time to hibernate.
- 4. Sarah wants me all to herself,
- 3. The controversy was too much for me. 2. I'm all out of powdered toast.

Merry Christmas everyone. Enjoy your finals and have a great break.

-Special Agent Cooper, a.k.a DaaaaAAAAAAAAAn!!!, a.k.a. -chops. Goodbye, Farewell, Amen.

TKE

Hey jerkies, First off a word to the wise, never attend a faculty social when you have loads of

EDITORIAL

Outgoing editor stresses need for sense of community at WPI

The end is upon me. This last issue of Newspeak's Volume 21 is also the last issue for this Editor-In-Chief. As I sit here on Friday afternoon, only one hour separates me from counting the ballots and identifying the new editorial staff who will guide Newspeak during 1994. As I wait, I thought I would leave a few comments before I hand over the reins.

Over the past year I've learned a lot about WPI and the way things work. In some ways, I learned more than I wanted to know. There's a certain amount of security in believing that things work "just because." Sometimes, when you dig deep enough, you learn that things aren't as planned and polished on the inside as they appear on the outside. You learn that the institutions and people you respected the most, aren't what they appear to be on the outside. This is where I am faced with the thin line between knowledge and power.

Knowledge's power necessitates a sense of responsibility. Realizing that Newspeak is a major source of information for the students on this campus, it remains a constant challenge for the editor to report as much information to the community as possible while doing it all in a professional and objective manner. It is not enough to print rumors simply because they might be interesting or true, I must ensure that the facts exist before an article is printed. As an editorial board, we have striven to include articles which told people what we felt they should know about WPI. Yet many more stories remained unwritten due to lack of information and staff writers.

A year ago, the outgoing Editors-In-Chief, Joe Parker and Ray Bert, sat in this same office and assessed their experiences with the WPI community during 1992. At that time, they commented on a rising power which they observed within the student body. They believed that many student organizations were finally gaining the respect they deserved. However they cautioned against complacency and intolerance among the student body. Many of their words could be echoed today. Last spring WPI saw the culmination of this student power in the demonstration in front of Boynton Hall for preserving WPI's green space. This past fall, plans were finally unveiled for a Campus Center. The program plans for this building were presented to the community just last week. We have come a long way in a year; yet much remains to be done.

My caution, as I leave, is that WPI still needs to develop a sense of community among its members. Webster's defines community as: "a group of people living together as a smaller social unit within a larger one, and having interests, work, etc. in common ... friendly association; fellowship". A Campus Center building will aid development of a sense of community but it is not an end-all solution. Community is not built by contractors with brick and steel, it is built by people through "friendly association." It is built by breaking down the stereotypes and artificial barriers which lie between the groups and organizations on campus. It is time for us, as a community, to realize that we are just that - a community. Much work remains to be done in this area. All too often I hear members of one group making negative comments about another group. The sad part is that the members of these groups might actually get along if they took the time to overlook their mutual stereotypes and sat down and talked to each other. Now that we are well on our way to building the Campus Center it is time to erect another building. The foundation of this building begins with you. Are you strong enough to lay aside your stereotypes and meet a new person today? I challenge each and every one of you to do just that. Build community at WPI

Throughout this year I was educated, I was bold, I was fearless, I was fearful, I was challenged, I was annoyed, I was encouraged, I was excited, I was ignored. I spent entirely TOO MUCH time in this office. I also met a lot of people, both administrators and students, who helped me out with many ideas. I was also privileged to know a select few who never seemed to run out of inspirational comments and challenging remarks. To them I owe my gratitude since they shaped the direction this paper took as much as I did.

In the end, I am satisfied and proud. Thanks, I'll miss every minute Levin M. Harken

COMMENTARY

Just A Thought

A passion for the promise

by Stephen Brown Protestant Campus Ministry

Christmas season is upon us. Over the years, I have observed the various ways people treat this holiday. The vast majority have been seduced by the market place and join the masses and buy, buy, buy so they can give, give, give, and then hopefully get, get, get. Since consumerism is America's true religion, it is little wonder that most retailers do a third to a half of their business between Thanksgiving and Christmas. But, give, and get; it is the patriotic thing

For students, it represents a pause, a break, a breather. Half a year done, half a year to go. Time to go home and see family and friends. Nothing like a mid-year break to get the batteries re-charged for another goaround. And of course, it is party time. It seems every office, every company has to have a Holiday party. To be honest, I could pass on most of them. I like intimate affairs where I can exchange in extended conversations and lively debates, not the two minute superficial stuff that passes for greetings at most parties I go to. But each year I grin and bear it, and do my bit for school and

There is, in case you have forgotten, a more significant event that we Christians celebrate during the Christmas season. It is the miracle that God became human.

That God cared so much for us humans and our planet that he entered our history to confront us with a message of hope and peace. It is for me, the most important event in the Christian year, even more important than Easter.

Why, you might ask. Aren't we past all that miracle stuff these days. Haven't we become so technological and scientific in our day and age that the thought that God would enter our world though a virgin in an out of the way country 2,000 years ago is too much to swallow. It makes for a nice fairy tale and a cute decoration for under our Christmas tree, but let's not get carried away.

I have come to expect that sort of response. IT was echoed in the TV show Picket Fences a few weeks ago. The town was thrown into chaos because a woman was found unconscious and pregnant; and there was no medical way to prove how she had become pregnant. There was no evidence of penile penetration or artificial insemination. She was just preg-

What I found interesting was the struggle the characters in the show went through in trying to explain how this girl became pregnant. The clergy were, as usual, on both sides of the question: it could be an act of God, but they were not about to make any official announcement. For me, the climax was when the town doctor, the lead actress, confessed on the stand that, absent of any medical explanation, it just might be an act of God.

Later, she confessed that she had felt embarrassed in making that statement. She was ashamed of her faith, afraid to express it in public. Sadly, the doctor in the show represents all too many people who call themselves Christians. We confess that we believe in a faith, in a God that fits neither rational explanation or scientific formula. But we are reluctant to say it aloud in public.

Why so silent? I think because we don't want to look or sound foolish. And also because the very belief that God became flesh, became human is offensive to other religions. It is even a heretical belief to some. And in an age of everything goes and too mushy sense of multiculturalism, it is better to keep silent about one's particular belief than risk offending someone else. Better to just muddle along in silent, but false unity, than preach or state a belief that is a scandal to others.

Unscientific. Offensive. Scandalous. So be it. But this is one person and one Christian who believes that challenging others with my particular faith and asking for them to do the same is a better path to truth than a forced silence of false agreement. Because I know that my belief in the Christmas miracle, in God's decision to become human, makes a difference in my life and how I choose to live it. And it is that belief, that passion for the promise of so many years ago that I celebrate this Christmas season.

Motoring News

Parking

by James Aduskevich Newspeak Staff

As we all have heard, we have a major parking problem on campus. There are just too few spots for the number of vehicles. There are many solutions proposed, but they are future solutions. Even though we may not be able to solve the problem now, there are a few things which can be done to help.

A few weeks back, I was returning to my truck and I found a note on the window. Apparently this had been put on my truck by one of the people parked alongside. It quite simply said: "Nice parking job, A It was late at night, and they had already left, so I didn't get a chance to see what it was that they were upset about. I looked at the way I was parked, and at first I didn't see any problem with the way I was parked. I was in between the lines, and fairly straight, at that. But then I noticed that there was only about 3 inches of space on either side of my truck. If they had a vehicle which was even close in width to my truck, they would have never been able to get into their vehicle. It seems that the spaces in the back of the library lot are only meant for compact vehicles. However, people are forced to put their full-size vehicles in these compact spots because the other spots are already full. If the people driving compact cars could park in the compact spaces instead of taking up a full size space, then there would be less dented doors and angry drivers. At least don't blame people who own full size vehicles, we would rather park in a space that fits.

Page 1

Along the same line as "politically correct" parking, have you ever noticed that some people seem to feel that they have the right to park in as many spots as they can use up? Or the people who park just enough over the line as to make the remaining spot useful only if you're trying to park a squished Yugo? Even if you're late to class, at least have the consideration to spend the extra few seconds to make sure that you're only taking up one space.

Another thought as to consideration: if you are early to your class, why not park in one of the lesser used outer lots? This would leave space close to classes for those who are running late. Just think, some day when you're late, someone may have left a spot open. It would be nice...

Well, anyway, these are just some ideas which might make the parking problem a little easier. But it still is a major problem, and has to be dealt with soon. I wonder if it would help give incentive to finding a solution if, one day, everyone with a parking permit tried to park on campus. Let's see, 2000 cars in 800 spaces...

The Student Newspaper of Worcester Polytechnic Institute WPI Box 2700, Worcester, Massachusetts 01609 Phone (508) 831-5464 • Fax (508) 831-5721

Sayan Ghosh C. SukJoon Lee

Business Manager Bruce Reedstrom

Eric Craft Javier Diaz Jason Hutt

Writing Staff

Aichael Caprio Eric Kristoff Tom Sico

Typist ennis Obie

WPI Newspeak of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, formerly the Tech News, has been published weekly during the academic year, except during college vacations, since 1909. Newspeak has been printed on recycled paper since January, 1991. Masthead designed by Troy Thompson for Newspeak's 21s Anniversary. Letters to the Editor should be typed (double-spaced) and must contain the typed or printed name of the author as well as the author's signature telephone number, and box number for verification. Students submitting letters to the editor should put their class after their name. Faculty and staff should include the control of the staff should include the control of the staff should include the staff should should be staff should include the staff should should be staff should should should be staff should sh their full title. Letters deemed libelous or irrelevant to the WPI community will not be published.

The editors reserve the right to edit all other copy for correct punctuation and spelling. All copy is due by 5:00 p.m. on the Friday preceding publication. Send them to WPI Box 2700, bring them to the Newspeak office (Riley 01), or send them via email newspeak@wpi.wpi.edu. They must include the author's name and box number. There is a 275 word limit imposed on Club and Greek corner submissions.

All ads are due by 5:00 p.m. on the Thursday preceding publication. Any submissions received after this time will be subject to a flat $15 late fee per ad. Advertisements, including classified ads, will not be accepted via email. Classified ads must be prepaid. The decision on whether a submission is a public service announcement or an advertisement lies with the editors.

The editorial is written by a member or members of the Newspeak staff. It does not necessarily reflect the opinions of the entire Newspeak staff.

Printing is done by Saltus Press. First Class postage paid at Worcester, Massachusetts. Subscription rate is $20.00 per school year, single copies 75 cents thin the continental United States. Make all checks payable to WPI Newspeak.

WORLD WATCH

by Eric Craft and Jennx Yambert, GAP

National News

NASA's Hubble Space Telescope

During the Endeavor's eleven day mission, the astronauts conducted five space walks to repair defective equipment and install updated technology on NASA's Hubble Space Telescope. It may be six to eight weeks before engineers are able to test and calibrate the new camera on the Hubble, which will allow scientists to see objects ten to fifteen times fainter than Hubble can see now, to determine if the repair has been successful. Nevertheless, NASA has been celebrating. The completion of the mission's objectives is a major success in the public eye, proving that NASA really can get things done. When the astronauts come back to earth they will have repaired NASA's major embarrassment of the past few years, astronaut Tom Akers will have set a new record for accumulated space walk time, and space shuttle Endeavor will have once again transported astronauts safely. After Challenger's explosion and Hubble's failure NASA's popularity plummeted.

Hopefully, after the successful completion of this mission, the US will return to its once optimistic view of space exploration.

International News Letter Bombimgs in Austria

Since December 3, ten letter bombs have been sent through Austria's mail system. Austrian officials fear that these letters may have been sent by Neo Nazi Terrorists. All the places that have received the letter bombs so far have been involved in supporting the rights of immigrants, refugees, or minority groups. Currently, no one has taken the blame for these bombs, but officials suspect extreme rightists because of their known hatred for foreigners and those who aid them. This hatred might have been inflamed by the recent influx of former Yugoslavian refugees who total over 100,000. The first four bombs that were sent contained the message, "We are fighting back. Count Rudiger von Sarhemberg." Count Sarhemberg, a historical figure who led a successful resistance against the Ottoman armies that tried to capture Vienna in 1683, has been taken as a symbol of Austrian nationalism by the Neo Na-

Genetic Screening by Orthodox Jews

A group of Orthodox Jews in New York and Israel are using genetic screening todiscourage certain couples from marrying. Representatives of this group of genetic screeners, called Dor Yeshorin, or "the generation of the righteous," go to high schools to encourage students to get genetically tested. The tests are used to determine if a person carries the recessive genes that can cause Tay-Sachs, Cystic Fibrosis, or Gaucher's disease.

Couples planning to get married are encouraged to call in and find out the results of these tests, and if both people are carriers of the recessive genes their marriage is discouraged. Since the groups start in 1983 over 8,000 couples have agreed to be tested. Of those, at least 67 have called off their engagements because of the test results. The group aims to wipe out these diseases in their people. Though it is receiving much opposition, it claims to be aiding God's will, not going against it.

The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade

In Brussels, Belgium a world wide trade conference is taking place between the US, the European Community and Japan. After 15 hours of talks, the major issue under discussion is the release of all restrictions on American television programs and on American technologies in the cable, computer and entertainment industries. It is feared that if an agreement is not reached over this issue, it is not likely that there will be a global General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Other issues included grain and rice trade between the US, France, and Japan. After Clinton's signing of NAFTA, GATT seems to be the next trade agreement for the world to strive for.

THE COURIER: Chapter six: no KIND

by N. Harrison Ripps Newspeak Staff

The door to N. Harrison Ripps' apartment was locked. Grmbrand waited for a minute before he moved to break the door in, and when the minute was up, he was very surprised to find that not only didn't the door give, but he probably broke his arm in the process of hitting it. This was a very strong door. Grmbrand moved to swing again when, as if on cue, the door swung open. The momentum of his swing carried the Courier inside the suite, and the door slammed shut as he stumbled into a nearby chair. A familiar smell pervaded the airit was like incense, or perfume.

From around the corner, Grmbrand heard an absolute silence which was quickly accompanied by the entrance of Anne Selkow, his ex-girlfriend. She looked like Anne, anyway... there was something unusual-

"Anne - how are you?"

Without a word, she sat on the couch before him. She seemed to be examining him. Her eyes. That was it. Her eyes, like Grmbrand's own, had lost their color. She looked more like a postmortum Anne than the vibrant, pissed- off Anne he'd seen the night before.

"I see you got my invitation, Grmbrand." Grmbrand's breathing stopped. How did she know my real name?

"Who are you?"

"Who do you want me to be?"

"Honestly, I'm looking for a man named Harrison -

"You idiot, I made that up. It was a setup. A trap. You've been suckered into shirking off your duties while evil propagates in the universe.'

This was all a little over the Courier's head. "Uh, this is all a little over my head."

Anne took a deep breath.

"Let me explain. Your entire life... is a hoax. The crimes you committed to become damnedyou never committed. You are not the embodiment of evil. I know that. Now you know that. Only, the Masters... they don't know that."

"How can that be? The Masters -made- this universe. They know everything."

"Wrongo. The Masters did NOT create this universe. They're kind of a committee to God."

Grmbrand looked pretty skeptical. "Anne, there is no such thing as God. He, just like Santa Claus and the Easter bunny, is a creation of some fanatical Earth religion. Are the Masters really just a committee?"

Anne rose from her seat.

"Do you know who was -actually- supposed to get the job of 'Courier and Custodian of Angklov'?" "Tell me."

The flesh peeled away from Anne's face, revealing a much different creature. Her body underwent a complete transformation that rent her human form apart. Her voice seemed to have fallen seven octaves when she got to her

"Me. The embodiment of evil. I am to the creatures of this universe as Angklov is to the dying planets. I am everything, and I put you in my place that I may be free to roam and reap havok across this flimsy reality."

Grmbrand was awestruck. Her body was angelic and radiated white light. She floated an inch off the floor. If ever there was a fallen angel, here she stood. Or rather, hovered.

"I don't understand," said the Courier, "If the Hell planet is so ugly and awful, why don't you meet the same criteria?"

The angel smiled.

"In all life, true evil is always masked by Anne reached out towards the frightened Grmbrand. She prepared to snuff the spark from his supernatural body when, from nowhere, there was a growl. Grmbrand opened his eyes long enough to see the impossible.

"Plot Engine!"

A small housecat sprung towards Grmbrand and the Demon from the corner of the room. Anne threw her intended victim aside, but it was too late. As Plot Engine tore into her skin, the truth of her statement on evil and goodness was proven. The inside of her body, already racked with decay, collapsed in a final exhalation of blood. Grmbrand picked up his cat and scratched it's head with a new respect. "You saved my life. I don't know what you really are, but you saved my life." Plot Engine purred and began to clean the blood from his paws.

Later that day, Grmbrand stood at the North Pole of Angklov, the hell planet. He had just finished burying Anne's body, and was lost in reflection. Far above, Saurius glimmered like a giant moon in the sky. "Someday," thought the Courier, "someday this will all be over, and I can finally go home..." Overtly, there is no Christmas for Grmbrand Johnson, but this night, he was given the greatest gift he could want: dirt on the Masters. He laughed all the way back to his space station ("they're a friggin' COMMTITTEE!! AHAHA-), and as he stepped through the door, he was pleased to note that they (the Masters) weren't there. Just the cat.

PRIME & CHOICE STEAKS

Filet Mignon - N.Y. Strip - Delmonico - Ribeye

BARBECUE BABY BACK RIBS

Tender and Lean - Simply the best.

HALF POUND BURGERS

Thick, juicy, and made to order.

TEXAS CHILI, FROSTED MUGS & PITCHERS OF BEER

24 Bottled Beers & 4 others on Tap

FANTASTIC APPETIZERS

Buffalo Wings Skyrockets Nachos Mozzarella Sticks Texas Chili Onion Rings

Lunch: Noon - 3pm

Dinner: 4 - 10pm Sun. - Wed. / 4 - 11pm Thu. - Sat.

Take-out Available

SALOON OPEN: NOON - 1AM

Come and watch the game on one of our 4 TV's

A FREE PULL ON OUR SLOT MACHINE WINS FREE DINNERS!

400 PARK AVENUE, WORCESTER, MASS.

WORCESTER'S ONLY FOUR STAR * STEAKHOUSE

752-3038

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Consortium schedule available online

Full time, day division students at the Worcester Consortium Colleges and University can once again take advantage of the opportunity to take a course at one of the Consortium colleges at no charge. Students may preregister for a course the week of December 6th or register at the beginning of Spring semester. The Consortium's Academic Calendar brochure lists the date for cross registration at each of the member institutions.

To assist students in making course selections, a Master Course Listing of all available courses is available for reference in each institution's registrar's office and library.

In addition, for the first time, the Spring 1994 Master Course Listing may be accessed by computer through the Internet Network. Access instructions are as follows:

1. For 2,400 Baud users: Dial: 793-7730 For 9,600 Baud users: Dial: 793-7740

2. USER NAME: Consortium

3. PASSWORD: Spring94

Questions may be directed to the Worcester Consortium for Higher Education, 754-6829.

Custodian dies

Richard M. Johnson, 53, of Worcester, a custodian in Gordon Library since 1987, died December 3 after he was stricken ill at home. He leaves his wife, Mary S. (Cales) Johnson; a son, Matthew P. Johnson; a daughter, Maila L. Johnson; his mother, Mary M. (Lantinen) Johnson, all of Worcester; three sisters; nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were held December 6 in Worcester. Burial was in Worcester County Memorial Park, Paxton. Contributions in his memory may be sent to the Salvation Army, Citadel Corps, 630 Main St., Worcester 01610.

OPPORT IN

At Microsoft, the Opportunities are great, no matter which direction you go. We give you the best of both worlds: a chance to work with others towards a common goal, while still maintaining your freedom to do things smarter and better. Come talk to us. Because we genuinely believe our best years are Checked. And so are yours. When you look down the road, what could be cooler than changing the world?

what: Summer Intern Interview Schedules

where: See your Career Center for details

when: Friday, February 11, 1994

Sign-ups are between December 6, 1993 - January 22, 1994.

Microsoft®

Microsoft is an Equal Opportunity Employer and supports workforce diversity.

Microsoft and MS-Dos are registered trademarks and Visual C++, Windows and Windows NT are trademarks of Microsoft Corporation.

CLASSIFIEDS

WPI STUDENTS

2 & 3 Bedroom Apartments: f Off street parking f Off Highland Street f Clean and Quiet f No lease required. Call 835-2806

Wanted: A home for a 1 year dog. He is part husky and part lab, black and white, and has had rabie shots. If interested call 757-1767

Attention WPI Students: 2 and 3 Bedroom Apartments off Highland Street. No lease required - off street parking. Clean and quiet. Call 835-2806.

WORKSTUDY JOB AVAILABLE FOR C AND D TERMS. CAREER DEVELOPMENT CENTER. MUST BE FEDERALLY ELIGI- BLE (PINK CARD). CALL X5260.

MOTO !!!

To drool, or not to drool, that is the question. Ask Rhett for the answer.

Wanted: One HCI TA. Must be able to put in more than 10 hours per week.

I make the motion that the Student Government Association compose and send a letter to the Faculty Committee on Governence indicating our willingness and desire to actively work with the faculty on the recommendations from the Blue Ribbon Task Force and White Paper Group." - Jennifer Keenan. This motion was killed by the Student Government Association on December 5th, 1993.

Newspeak will run classifieds free for all WPI students, faculty, and staff. Free classifieds are limited to six (6) lines. Ads commercial nature and ads longer than six lines must be paid for at the off campus/commercial rate of $5.00 for the first six lines and 50 cents per additional line. Classified ads must be paid for in advance No information which, in the opinion of the Newspeak editors, would identify an individual to the community will be printed in a personal ad. The editors reserve the right to refuse any ad deemed to be in bad taste or many ads from one group or individual on one subject.

The deadline for ads is noon on the Friday before publication.

All classified ads must be on individual sheets of paper and must be accompanied by the writer's name, address and phone number. Name_ Phone_ Address Total Enclosed $ Allow only 30 characters per line

Super Tecmo Bowl rules !!!

The 3 H's! What are they again ??

Happy Holidays to the Zeta Zeta Chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta!

Pictures of the LIVE Christmas Tree at 120 West St. Apt. #2 are now being sold for the $5 a piece. Get yours now 'cuz they are going fast!

Steph, Jen, Kris, Jeanette, and Anne you guys are ahhhh, ahhhhh, cool.

Happy Birthday John F. ...you silly Frenchman.

Well...Its the last paper ! GREAT JOB KEVIN!!

You CAN go through 3 1/2 years at WPI and not once walk into Kaven Hall!

Thanks. To the Editors and staff of Newspeak's Volume 21; I couldn't have done it without you.

Oh What a long, hard trip it's been....

ALWAYS A GREAT PARTY!

- Weddings
- Anniversaries
- Reunions
- Nightclubs Corporate Functions

VP for Activities & Graduate Life:

GSO & WPI Social Issues

VP for Orientation and Depart-

Orientation, encouraging depart-

Communications with to the GS

All budget and financial duties

Presides at GSO Meetings. Internal mental representation VP for Public body, WPI, and community

(CommCouncil, SOCCOM)

ment Representation:

Special Events

CALL (508) 987-1098

CSA, COG)

Relations:

(Newspeak)

(IBC)

Treasurer:

Secretary:

GRADUATE STUDENT ORGANIZATION

 GSO Leaders for 1994 Needed Elections for the next administration of GSO officers is coming soon. ALL the current office-holders will be graduating, and that means we need new people to keep the GSO going. So if you're a MS or PhD student who is going to be here for another year, please consider helping the GSO continue to help the graduate student body.

Additional bonuses are a new and enthusiastic Dean of Graduate Studies and Research, and a large surplus budget that still hasn't been spent! :) What do you think needs to be done here at WPI? Positions are detailed in the By-Laws (~gso/pub/info/By-Laws)

These are the positions that will be available: (In the parentheses are the meetings that they currently attend.)

President:

represents the GSO. the big cheese, El Cid. (APSA, Trustees) VP for Policy:

Policy of the GSO and WPI (CGSR, recording, minutes, etc. As you can see, there are interesting positions for everyone. We have made a lot of progress in the GSO this year. The graduate students are now recognized as being an integral part of the WPI community. We are respected in many important committees and our opinion is an important contribution to many decisions.

In the long term this will lead to a strengthening of the positions of all graduate students. The whole program will be more respected, both internally and externally. But we need good people to continue our work now. Nominations are made in January, finalized in the first general meeting of February. Election of postions will be held at the second general meeting in February.

* Next GSO Meeting

The next meeting will not be until 1994! Planned date will be a General Meeting on January 26th, 1994.

* Social Events

We had great success with the recent Medieval Manor and the Faculty/ Student Reception. Friday the 10th was Ping's Garden, and we had over seventy students show up at this great graduate social, thank you Laura for organizing this.

If you have ideas for activities in 1994, contact Laura Paciorek at ljp@wpi. Better yet, if you're a first year student, consider becoming our next VP of Activities.

* Crime on Campus

Crime in the Worcester area, and even on campus, has been increasing. There have been a number of muggings in the recent days of WPI students. Due to our late night routines, graduate students are particularly vulnerable.

If you are travelling at night, please feel free to make use of SNaP (for an on campus escort) at extension 5566. If you are leaving campus, the WPI

Police will give you a ride home to the local Worcester area. The WPI-PD can be reached at extension 5433. Note that the WPI extensions are the same as the 831-#, i.e. WPI-PD is 831-5433.

So really, use the offered services. Don't hesitate, your health might depend on it.

* Health Care

Coming soon to a mailbox near you: an evaluation of the impact on graduate students of the Clinton Health Care plan. We ask you to read this document, and share your comment/ criticisms.

* Electronic GSO Information

If you have questions about the GSO, feel free to contact us at gso@wpi. Reaction will be faster if you do it by email, but if you must, the phone number is ext5393. Many items such as the minutes of meetings are publicly available in the ~gso/pub/ directory on the CCC machines.

POLICE LOG

WPD - Worcester Police WPI - Campus Police

Friday December 10th

WPD Cedar St

Break and Entering of Motor Vehicle over 500$.

Thursday December 9th

6:00pm WPD Pleasant St. WPD Pleasant St. 10:16pm

Rock through front window of Commerical Establishment Arrest Reckless Driving, Suspended License

(Domestic Dispute) Arrest Assault and Battery with a

Wednesday December 8th WPD Salisbury St. 12:34am

1:17am WPD Harvard St. WPD Salisbury St. 2:34pm

4:00pm WPD Grove St. 6:40pm WPD Park Ave.

WPD Bancroft St. 11:30pm

Tuesday December 7th

10:20am WPD Cedar St. 11:00am WPD Elm St. WPD Pleasant St. 12:42pm 15:00pm WPD Elbridge St.

Application for Temporary Institutionalization Malicious Mischief to Motor Vehicle Arrest Open Container, Public Drinking

Arrest Larceny and Malicious Mishchief

Harrasing Phone Calls

Dangerous Weapon

Larceny from Motor Vehicle

Commerical Alarm

Arrest on Warrant

Lost Property

Monday December 6th

WPD John St. WPD Pleasant St. 2:55am 9:26am WPD Pleasant St. 9:49am Harvard St. 11:00am WPD Park Ave. 2:45pm WPD Institute Rd. 3:00pm WPD Highland St.

WPD Sever St. WPD Park Avc. 11:23pm WPD Russell St.

Stolen Plate

5:57pm 7:31pm

Sunday December 5th

WPD William St. 12:01am WPI Gompei's WPI 12:53am Dean St. Highland St. 1:08am WPD WPI 2:35am Elbridge St. 3:16am WPD Goulding St. WPD Pleasant St. 10:15am WPD William St. 2:28pm

8:36pm WPD Dean St. WPD 10:14pm West St. Saturday December 4th

12:48am WPD Drury Ln. 2:01am WPD West St. WPI Institute Rd. 3:33am

Harrassing Phone Calls

Arrest Operating under the Influence, Speeding (140 mph) Sudden Death

Breaking and Entering Commerical Found $100 Bill

Breaking and Entering Residential

Harrasing Phone Calls Arrest Prostitution Assault

Stolen Bike

Malicious Mischief Disorderly Persons Disturbing the Peace Report of Loud Party

Arrest Assault and Battery with a Dangerous Weapon Assault

Breaking and Entering Residential Breaking and Entering Residential Assault and Battery Domestic (Arrest)

Armed Robbery of Juvenile Breaking and Entering Residential Malicious Mischief

What's Happening

Tuesday, December 14th

2:00pm - Worcester Art Museum: Tour: "In Search of an Angel" Free with WPI ID. 55 Salisbury St.

7:30pm - Clark University - Film: "Fanny and Alexander," Jefferson Academic Center, room 320. Also shown the 16th, 18th, at 7:30 and the 19th at 1:00pm.

8:00pm - Worcester State College - WSC Chorus, Chorale, Wind Ensemble Holiday Concert. Administration Theatre. $2 advance. $3 at the door.

Friday, December 17th LAST DAY OF B TERM!

WPI Olin Hall Suspicious Persons 4:21am Goddard Hall 4:44am WPI Breaking and Entering 4:06pm WPI Institue Hall Malicious Mischief to Automobile 5:06pm WPD Highland St. Automobile accident with Property Damage 8:26pm Automobile accident with Property Damage WPD Dean St. WPI Fuller Labs Malicious Mischief (Arrest) 9:58pm

Friday December 3rd

12:42am WPD Pleasant St. 2:44am WPD Pleasant St. WPD Salisbury St. 2:41pm

WPI Elbridge St. 2:13am 12:09pm WPD Harvard St. 2:28pm WPD Harvard St. WPD Pleasant St. 9:24pm

Thursday December 2nd

9:32pm WPD Lancaster St. (Arrest) Assault and Battery Breaking and Entering Residential Automobile Accident with Property Damage

Disturbance (Arrest) Assault (Arrest) Assault

basis due to the over-whelming response of the student body to last weeks' test printing.

(Arrest) for Cocaine Trafficking, Possesion of a Class "B" Substance with intent to distribute Automobile Accident with Property Damage

Son their citizent mannah

WPD logs are taken from the Public Journals. They cover the area between Park Av., Sagamore Ave, Grove St., Harvard St., and Pleasant St.'s These logs will be printed in Newspeak on a weekly

Dining Services' Holiday Dinner

The WPI Dining Services will be holding its annual Student Holiday Dinner Special on Tuesday December 14, 1993, in both Morgan and Founders Commons. All 11:00 students on the meal plan will be seated at a special time of 5:30pm. A reception of egg nog and cheese and crackers will be held from 5:00pm - 5:30pm in the upper wedge. After being seated, students will be served a prime rib dinner (alternative items available) by volunteer Faculty Staff and Administration.

Macintosb Quadra® 660AV 8/230, with internal AppleCD™ 300i CD-ROM drive, Apple AudioVision™ 14" Display, Apple Extended Keyboard II and mouse. Only $3,076.30

Macintosb LC 475 4/80, Apple Color Plus 14" Display, Apple Keyboard II and mouse Only $1,280.00

Apple PowerBook 145B 4/80 Only $1,264.00

An easy application process. And you could qualify for low monthly payments on a Macintosb or PowerBook.

Introducing The Great Apple Campus Deal. Right now, buy any select Macintosh® or PowerBook*computer, and you'll also get seven useful software programs. It's all included in one low price. (The software alone has a combined SRP of $596.") And, the new Apple Computer Loan offers low monthly payments that make the deal even better. Apply by January 28,1994, and your first payment is deferred for 90 days. All you have to do is qualify. So, what are you waiting for? An Apple" computer. It does more. It costs less. It's that simple.

It does more.

It costs less.

It's that simple.

Visit your Apple Campus Reseller for more information.

Contact Greg Shapiro in the College Computer Center or call 831-5725

© 1993 Apple Computer, Inc. All rights reserved. Apple, the Apple logo, Macintosh Macintosh Quadru and PowerBook are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc. AppleCD and AudioVision are trademarks of A Retail Prices (SRP) of the products in The Campus Software Set for Macintosh as of October 1, 1993. Software is not included in the original product packaging as shown in this ad. But you will receive these same is