ABSTRACT

I completed my student teaching practicum through WPI's Teacher Preparation Program seeking licensure in Digital Literacy & Computer Science (5-12). At Claremont Academy, a public high school in the Worcester Public Schools district, I taught four classes differing in grade level and content. My practicum was completed under the mentorship of Kismet Fair, supervising practitioner, Tamisha Thompson, program supervisor, and Jillian DiBonaventura, project advisor. This portfolio acts as a record and collection of my developments and accomplishments from my practicum experience.
